ELECTION RESULTS IN MANY STATES

New Jersey Elects Legislature That will Give Support to Wilson.

NEW YORK IS REPUBLICAN

Returns From Maryland Uncertain—Massachusetts Probably Democratic—In New York City Tammany Loses.

Elections were held yesterday in many cities and States throughout the country, showing varying results with little indication of a widespread wave of public sentiment.

In Massachusetts, Governor Foss, Democrat, claims his re-election by a reduced plurality of about 12,000, but the election is not conceded and the result will be open to doubt until more complete returns are received. The first returns show marked gains for Louis P. Frothingham, Republican, which were gradually reduced. Meagre returns indicate that other Republican candidates on the State ticket are slightly ahead of their Democratic opponents.

In Rhode Island early returns indicated the re-election of Governor Pothier, Republican, over Louis A. Waterman, Democrat, by an increased majority.

New York State elected a Republican Assembly, thus depriving Governor Dix, Democrat, of the support he has heretofore had from a Legislature Democratic in both branches. The present New York Assembly has a Democratic majority of 24. The newly elected Assembly will have a Republican majority of upwards of 30.

In New York City (Manhattan and Bronx) the Tammany strength was materially reduced, but its candidates for judicial and county officers were elected by greatly reduced pluralities. In Brooklyn the fusion judicial and county candidates were successful with perhaps one exception.

New Jersey elected a Legislature which will probably give continued support to Governor Woodrow Wilson, Democrat, but the legislative majority is still in doubt.

Early returns from the State election in Maryland were inconclusive as between Arthur P. Gorman, Democratic candidate for governor, and Phillips Lee Goldsborough, Republican. On the first meagre returns Republican State Chairman Hanna claimed the State for Gouldsborough.

Mississippi elected a Democratic governor and State officers by decisive majorities.

The municipal elections in Ohio resulted in the election of Henry T. Hunt, Democrat, as mayor of Cincinnati; Newton D. Baker, Democrat, as mayor of Cleveland; George J. Karb, Democrat, as mayor of Columbus. President Taft cast his vote at Cincinnati.

In Kentucky James B. McCreary, Democrat, was elected governor by a majority estimated at 20,000 to 40,000. A Democratic Legislature also was elected, which insured the choice of Congressman Ollie James as United States Senator from Kentucky.

The election held in the new State of New Mexico is in doubt, both the Republican and Democratic candidates for governor claiming election on meagre early returns. Indications point to a Republican Legislature, which will elect two Republican United States Senators.

Republican Gains.

New York, Nov. 7.—Returns received up to midnight from throughout the State on the Assembly election indicate that the complexion of that body will be as follows:

Republicans 100; Democrats 49; Socialist one.

This would be a gain of 37 seats for the Republicans and give them a majority of 50.

Tammany Hall Shaken.

New York, Nov. 7.—Tammany Hall's hold on New York City was shaken today in a battle of the ballot in which local offices were mainly at stake. The Democrats successfully defended their ancient strongholds of Manhattan and the Bronx, but by greatly reduced pluralities. Queens county also stood by the Democrats, but the Republican-fusion candidates made nearly a clean sweep of Brooklyn and probably divided honors in the little borough of Richmond.

A year ago Manhattan and the Bronx boroughs gave Governor Dix a plurality of 68,389 and elected a Democratic Supreme Court justice by about 22,000. Today Robert L. Fowler, the Democratic candidate for surrogate, carried New York county with a maximum plurality of about 17,000.

The Democrats elected their candidate for sheriff by about 8,000 and the three Democrats for Supreme Court justice in the first judicial district pulled through by a bare 5,000. Francis M. Scott, the fourth justice elected, was endorsed by both parties.

The Republicans gained eight Assemblymen in New York county and will send 15 members of that body out of the total delegation of 35.

Three Republican candidates for Supreme Court justices in the second judicial district, which comprises Kings, Queens and Richmond counties, were elected with one possible exception. William Willett, Jr., the Democratic candidate who was charged with buying his nomination, ran about 8,000 behind Callahan, who is so close to the last man on the Republican list

MUST SERVE TWELVE YEARS

Before Compensation Will be Granted in Case of Death—So Stated President Gompers at Yesterday's Meeting.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Some of the difficulties liable to be encountered in the administration of the proposed workmen's compensation law were emphasized today when President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor took issue with members of the employers' liability and workmen's compensation committee regarding the awarding tribunal to be created.

Mr. Gompers in the main, endorsed the commission's plan of insuring railroad employes against accident, but when he took up the question of administration he advanced a theory which did not meet the approval of some of the commissioners. He insisted that the tribunal should consist of three members, one of whom should represent the employer and another the employe, while the third should be a physician of standing and should be chosen by the other two.

The commission has not formulated a provision covering this important part of the law, but Senator Sutherland and Representative Moon indicated a decided leaning toward the selection of award boards of the Federal courts of the country.

Mr. Sutherland pointed out that Mr. Gompers' plan would be in effect a system of arbitration and he said the result would be that the third man of the board would be the arbitrator, while the other two would be mere attorneys for the two sides.

On the other hand, Mr. Gompers would not agree that any one man should have the election of arbiters.

"To confer this authority on the courts is equivalent to saying that the courts are not governed by politics, and I am not sure that this is always the case," he said. He hastened to add that he did not believe that as a rule the courts were prompted by improper motives, but said that the environment and education of most judges were such as to render them incapable of correctly determining questions pertaining to industrial life.

H. E. Core, vice chairman of the joint board of the Eastern Pennsylvania lines for the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, urged high payments and long time allowances contending that if the figures were high enough it would be immaterial whether the law were elective or compulsory. He expressed the opinion that the entire burden of damages should be borne by the railroads. This, he conceded, would force an increase of railroad rates in the end, therefore the responsibility would fall on the public, where according to his theory it rightly belonged. He thought that the compensation in case of death should be based on 12 years of service.

Senator Sutherland and Representative Brantley warned Mr. Core against too extreme demands. A moderate and reasonable measure, they said, was more important to get through Congress and the courts than one of stringent requirements. Speaking for 117,000 men, President W. G. Lee, of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen urged the abandonment of all ideas of lump sum payments, saying that a large majority of cases the money is soon spent with the result that in many cases the injured employe becomes a public charge.

LEE DIDN'T WITHDRAW.

Stated That He Would Make No Statement to That Effect.

Lynchburg, Va., Nov. 6.—Despite reports from Boston to that effect, John L. Lee, who has been retained by the defense in the case of Rev. Clarence Richeson in Boston, that attorney has not retired from the case. It was reported in press dispatches Saturday night from Boston that Mr. Lee had retired from the defense because of differences with the Edmands family, but this could not have happened, because Mr. Lee today declared he had never met Mr. Edmands or any member of his family.

When seen this afternoon and asked for a statement relative to the Boston report, Mr. Lee characterized the rumor as false, declaring his connection with the case had been at the instance of the defendant, Rev. Clarence Richeson, and his father, Mr. T. V. Richeson, of Amherst county.

Upon his return from Boston Saturday night, after filling engagements in Richmond and Petersburg during the day Saturday, Mr. Lee expressed a firm belief in the innocence of his client, stating further that he did not expect to have serious trouble in establishing his innocence before a Boston jury.

Today Mr. Lee is arranging his numerous professional engagements so as to be able to go back to Boston as soon as it is necessary to do so.

BLOWN TO FRAGMENTS.

Wagon Driver Drops Can and 1,200 Quarts Explode.

Clarksburg, W. Va., Nov. 6.—S. A. Green, aged 55 years, driver of a nitroglycerin wagon for the Marietta Torpedo Company, was blown to pieces, two horses were killed, a nitroglycerin factory was smashed into fragments and a wagon completely disappeared when 1,200 quarts of nitroglycerin exploded at the factory at Rinehart today.

Green was loading his wagon, when he dropped one of the cans, causing the explosion. Only small fragments of the man's body were found. A magazine nearby containing 1,700 quarts of the deadly fluid, did not explode.

MR. TAFT WILL BE A NECESSARY EVIL

Says That He Will Come Back to Cincinnati to Practice Law.

WENT TO POLLS WITH OTHERS

Was Made the Guest of the Local Manufacturers' Club, and Made Several Speeches During the Day

Cincinnati, Nov. 7. — President Taft's second day in Cincinnati, led him to the polls like thousands of his fellow citizens, made him the guest at luncheon of the local Manufacturers' Club, where he said he expected to come back to Cincinnati some day to practice law, and gave him an opportunity to speak on peace and arbitration to the American Society for the judicial settlement of international disputes. Tonight, the President was the guest and principal speaker at the banquet of the Commercial Club. At the conclusion of this speech Mr. Taft retired on board his private car and early tomorrow morning will leave this city for Frankfort and Louisville, Kentucky.

During the day he met scores of Ohioans who knew him in the days when he lived here. Governor Harmon, who came down from Columbus to vote, met the President and sat with him at the manufacturers' luncheon and later on the platform music hall where Taft made his peace speech.

At the entrance of the Business Mens' Club where the Commercial Club gave its luncheon, the President met Governor Harmon and former Senator J. H. Foraker. The three chatted for a moment and then Mr. Taft, linking one arm in that of Governor Harmon's and with the other thrown over the shoulder of Senator Foraker, entered the building. After he had voted at the polling place in ward No. 3, precinct M, the President was in happy vein when he spoke to the manufacturers. "I'm glad to see that you still think lawyers are a necessary evil," said the President.

"I am coming back here myself some day to become a necessary evil. I see a good many well-fed lawyers and have no fear of the future. I am coming back to compete for business with Governor Harmon and Senator Foraker."

In Music Hall Mr. Taft spoke in behalf of the proposed arbitration treaties with Great Britain and France. He said that there was nothing inconsistent in his demand that the Panama canal be formed and that the Senate ratify these treaties. "We ought to use common sense in everything," said the President. "We ought to fortify the Panama canal to keep it for ourselves and to prevent it falling into the hands of an enemy."

Cincinnati, November 7.—Reiterating his theory of peace, but advocating the fortification of the Panama canal, President Taft delivered the principal address before the opening session of the National Conference of the American Society for Judicial Settlement of International Disputes, here today. He urged the ratification of the peace treaties between the United States and England and France, but at the same time urged precautionary measures in case of war.

"In time of peace prepare for war," was the opening clause of a speech by John Hays Hammond, also, who opened the conference. "The great Christian nations of the world are today spending for armed peace upwards of one and a half billion dollars annually," said Mr. Hammond. "It is a futile expenditure, in that it serves no useful purpose.

"The ultimate solution of this great problem is unquestionably the establishment of a permanent court of arbitral justice, but this cannot be done except as we solve step by step the intricate problems that confront us."

Continuing, Mr. Hammond said:

"In the Anglo-American and Franco-American arbitration treaties a long step has been taken in the right direction. The pressure of popular demand will undoubtedly induce favorable action at an early date.

The peace treaties "are the crown of President Taft's achievements and they are destined if ratified to become the glory of our common country," said Dr. S. C. Mitchell, president of the University of South Carolina, in an address.

Jacob Gould Schurman, president of Cornell University, advocated the ratification and treaties.

At tonight's session an address on peace was made by John H. Letane, of Washington and Lee University.

FATHER WON'T LET HER.

Suffragette, Nominated for Office, Bows to Parental Authority.

Los Angeles, Cal., November 7.—Deputy County Clerk Carlin—Miss Charlotte Carlin, to be exact—has announced that her father will not let her accept the nomination for tax and licenes collector, conferred on her by the Citizens' party of Long Beach.

"It was just too mean for anything that papa should have blocked my ambition just because he belongs to the opposite side," said Miss Carlin.

"But, of course, I must obey papa," she added ruefully.

DESPERATE AFFRAY AT TUNIS

Groups of Italians and Arabs Clash Yesterday---Number Killed Etimated at From Twenty to Fifty

Paris, Nov. 7.—A Tripoli dispatch from an Italian source says that the Italian advance began today. A turning movement was executed and the Hamedieh fort was occupied.

Constantinople, Nov. 7.—The War office today does not claim that Turkish troops have re-occupied Derna, Tripoli. An official telegram from that quarter, however, reports that the Turks won a big victory, 500 Italians being killed and 18 guns and large quantities of ammunition and provisions being captured. The port has dispatched a protest to the powers against Italy's claim that she has annexed Tripoli and Cyrenaica, setting forth Turkey's determination to resist.

In Collision

Tunis, Nov. 7.—Groups of Italians and Arabs came into collision today and a desperate affray ensued. It required strenuous efforts on the part of the whole police force, reinforced by detachements of troops, to restore order.

The rioting continued for a long time in different sections and revolvers were freely used.

The number killed is estimated at from twenty to fifty.

The disorders began as a result of a decision of the municipality to revise the boundaries of the Arab cemetery. A thousand Arabs repaired to the cemetery to protest. Others fell upon the surveyors who were Italians. The affair soon assumed the proportions of a regular battle between Arabs and Italians and spread to different quarters of the city.

WOULD GO BACK ACROSS

Aviator Rodgers States That He Would Make Return Trip

Pasadena, Cal., Nov. 6.—C. P. Rodgers, who has just finished his transcontinental trip in an aeroplane, today said he felt in condition to start back in another "if I had a machine."

This remark was made as he glanced at the machine that had carried him across the continent—or to be correct, at parts of the machine, for it was admitted that barring an upright rudder nothing of the original aeroplane that Rodgers started with from Sheepshead Bay on September 17th remains.

"I am working hard," said Rodgers, to get my machine in order so I can finish the trans-continental flight. I must go to the surf and I will do this probably Wednesday."

Fowler Still Suck

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 6.—Stuck in the heavy sand at Mastodon, N. M., 14 miles from here, where the aviator was forced to alight yesterday, the aeroplane of Robert G. Fowler, refuses to be budged. Fowler tomorrow will renew his efforts to start it.

WON'T BUY U. S. KINDLING

No Purchasers for What Formerly Went to Government Clerks

Washington, Nov. 7.—Postoffice department kindling wood is going begging. Twelve cords of white pine, made up from box pieces and other waste that accumulates at the department annex on K street, is advertised for sale, but no one has offered to buy it.

Up to four months ago the department authorities permitted employes to take the waste matter home to kindle fires, but Representative Redfield, of New York, a member of the committee on Expenditures in the Postoffice Department, put a stop to that practice. He declared that the government was losing just that much

PATRIARCH SMITH DEAD.

For Thirty Years Presiding Patriarch of the Mormon Church.

Salt Lake City, Utah, November 7.—John Smith, for thirty years the presiding patriarch of the Mormon church, a nephew of its founder and first president, Joseph Smith, is dead here after a three adys' illness of pneumonia. He was 79 years old.

He was born at Kirtland, Lake county, Ohio, in 1832, and when 16 years of age came west with the hand cart party, passing through Nauvoo, Ill., the scene of the attack which resulted in the death of his father and his uncle the preceding year.

OUTLINES.

Unless the State Supreme Court of Appeals grants a new trial to Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., before this day is out, he will be removed from the Richmond city jail to murderers' row in the death house of the State penitentiary where he will remain for 50 days until his execution.——President Taft goes along with his fellow citizens to the polls in Cincinnati yesterday and votes. During the day he made several speeches to various bodies. Among his remarks was one that lawyers were "necessary evils" and that some of these days he would come back home and engage in this business——Daughters of the Confederacy meet in Richmond. Five thousand people, mostly women, tried to force their way into the theatre for the preliminary session last night. Addresses of welcome delivered by Governor and Mayor——A mob of 40 masked men in Mississippi took a negro from officers and riddled his body with bullets. ## IN SYMPATHY WITH REVOLUTIONISTS

Dr. Wu Ting Fang, New Minister Thinks Outcome Will Help China.

FAVORS CONSTITUTIONAL RULE

Future of China Depends on Outcome of Present Struggle—Minister Thinks That Any Way Will Be Better

Shanghai, Nov. 7.—Dr. Wu Ting Fang, the new minister of foreign affairs of the provisional government and the most important figure that has appeared on the revolutionary stage during the last few days, made it plain today that he is not committed to the idea of a republic though he believes that such a government would be feasible. Personally he favored a constitutional monarchy; but he declared himself in sympathy with the general revolutionary movement and the majority behind that movement had set their hearts on a republic. He said:

"Whatever the outcome of the present upheaval it will be to the advantage of China. If the revolutionists succeed the question of whether the future government will be a republic or a constitutional monarchy will have to be decided. If it is to be the former, I anticipate a combination of the United States constitution with the acts of the German federation.

"In any case, new China will seek the friendship of foreigners, and probably a revision of her treaties will ensue. Anyhow, China will be opened to foreign trade and the government and people alike will do their utmost to stimulate business with the outside world and develop the natural resources of the country. Foreign administrative capacity also will be needed."

When the revolutionists proclaimed a provisional government at Shanghai Dr. Wu was made head of the foreign bureau but the appointment was not taken seriously and as late as yesterday he declined to acknowledge any participation in the revolutionary administration.

His attitude as announced today is expected to have far-reaching influence. He declared that ninety-nine per cent. of the population was supporting the present status.

"I admit that there are tremendous difficulties before us but we must win," continued Dr. Wu. "We guarantee an adherence to foreign treaties whether they were made unfairly or fairly. We will pay our obligations to foreign nations and open up all the ports of China to foreign trade. Thus will be guaranteed an enormous advantage to all foreigners as well as to China."

Dr. Wu said that he fully understood that the reform movement might lead even to anarchy, but all the people of China were now prepared to show the world the real power of China for orderly conduct, self-restraint and loyalty to a fair and honest government.

Dr. Wu Ting Fang has twice occupied the office of Chinese to the United States in which country he became widely known.

HORSES WRECK WINDOW.

Frightened Animals Dash Into Millinery Store, Doing $10,000 Damage.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 6.—A pair of runaway horses this afternoon stampeded through a show window in Liberty avenue, wrecking the front of a big millinery store and trampling thousands of dollars worth of costly effects into a desolate ruin. The team was attached to a wholesale grocer's dray and took fright at an automobile siren and bolted.

Feathers and plumage flew in all directions. Ponderous hoofs dented and crushed the loveliest Parisian shapes. Great sheets of broken glass cut the ankles and legs of the animals and the costly display was bespattered with blood. Both animals struggled and fought until they fell exhausted on a bed of the costliest millinery that has come to Pittsburg to herald the advent of Yule.

It took block and tackle and veterinarians with sugar and diplomacy to extricate the animals. The window display, which an hour before was worth about $10,000, was reduced to a valueless lot of rubbish.

POLITICAL FIGHT

Heated Discussion in Princess Anne County Ends Seriously

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 6.—During a fight following a heated discussion on political conditions in Princess Anne county, J. Tazwell James was stabbed in the stomach yesterday morning by Clifford Cason. The fight occurred at James' home, at Pungo.

James, Cason and some others are said to have held an all-night social and were drinking. They talked about the election for county treasurer, which takes place tomorrow. Cason claims that he stabbed James in self defense. When Dr. Lepsey reached James' home he found the house on fire, having been ignited, it is claimed, by the overturning of a lamp during the fight. It was extinguished without damage. James was sent to the Protestant Hospital, in this city, and will recover. Cason has not been arrested.

END OF MANCHU DYNASTY NEAR

National Assembly Holding Meetings Without a Quorum---City of Peking Was Quiet—No Hope of Saving the Throne

Peking, Nov. 7.—The legations consider that the end of the Manchu dynasty is imminent. There seems no hope of saving even a nominal throne. The provinces north of the Yang-Tse are now declaring for a republic. The only force of Manchu troops large enough to cope with the local situation is in Peking, but there are indications tonight that the capital will be surrounded before many days by Chinese soldiers. Where the court will take refuge is a question. There are evidences that the court intended to proceed to Chang Kia Kau. Troops guarding the route to that town, which lies in the province of Chi-Li, 125 miles northwest of Peking, were expected to dynamite the tunnel after the passage of the train bearing the Emperor and his household. Reports have now been received that Chang Kia Kau is unsafe.

The National Assembly is holding meetings without a quorum, but certain members are endeavoring to maintain a nucleus. Na-Tung, president of the privy council has taken rooms for his family in a hotel in the legation quarter. Prince Ching's palace seems deserted. It is believed is in the forbidden city.

American soldiers, with a supply of skyrockets, were sent to each outlying mission compound tonight. The legation has advised the Americans to come into the quarter or seek other places of safety. A concerted attack upon foreigners is not feared, but there are many within the city who are opposed to foreigners.

General Chang Shao-Tsen, who was appointed by imperial edict as envoy to proceed to the Yang-Tse provinces to conciliate the people, has declined the appointement, saying that he preferred to remain with his own troops at Lanchau.

The government proposes today to cut the Peking-Tien-Tsin Railway beyond Fent-Tai, to prevent additional troops from arriving. It is understood that the British minister, Sir John Jordan, protested, on the ground that Great Britain was entitled to operate the railroad in the event of the suspension of service in accordance with an old agreement. Consequently the line is still open.

The Chinese report that the Kalgan Railway is in the hands of the revolutionaries, while a rebel force is proceeding apparently in the direction of Peking at a point on the railway about 70 miles from the capital. All railway connections with the capital are threatened.

It is expected that the assassination of General Wu Lu-Chang will lead to the revolt of the remainder of his old sixth division, which is now with Yuan Shi-Kai. The government reports, however, that two train loads of imperial soldiers are now on their way to Hankow, and these may be sufficient to prevent a mutiny.

A hundred carts left Peking tonight for Jehol and 200 mounted Manchus proceeded in the same direction early in the day. The Chinese believe this party is preparing the way for the flight of the court, but many Manchus are fleeing and troops are constantly moving in the vicinity of Peking. The Manchu troops here number 11,000, imperial guards 7,500, police 2,000 and banner police about 5,000.

The city is quiet tonight and there is no sign of any intended movement.

"DOLLAR CORN" PROBABLE.

Shortage of Foreign Crop Will Run Up Price in America.

Washington, Nov. 7.—"Dollar corn" appears to be a possibility before Spring, according to the figuring of the statisticians of the Department of Agriculture. The United States, although the greatest corn producing Nation on earth, has never figured heavily as a corn exporter, only 2 per cent. of the crop going out of the country. Owing to the failure of the Argentine crop, which is not large enough for home consumption, there is a tremendous shortage in the world's supply. In European countries the crop has not been as large as usual, and the demand upon the United States will be enormous.

The Department of Agriculture will not attempt to predict what this demand will amount to, but it will be enough to send the price to 80 cents, and the department realizes that with the probability of an advance in price will come the probability of manipulation, with consequent wild speculation, and then perhaps "Dollar corn."

MR. THOS. FITZHUGH DEAD.

Aged Citizen of Watha Died Yesterday Afternoon—Funeral.

News reached here last night of the death of Mr. Thos. Fitzhugh, a well known and highly esteemed citizen of Watha, which occurred at his home there yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, following a short illness. He was 84 years old and is survived by two sons, Messrs. Parke and W. W. Fitzhugh, of Auburn, S. C., and one daughter, Mrs. W. F. Peace, of Watha, who have the sympathy of many friends in this section in their bereavement. The body will be brought through Wilmington today en route to Maxton, N. C., where the funeral will be held tomorrow.

Ketchikan, Alaska, Nov. 7.—Twenty-one Japanese fishermen were arrested by an agent of the United States fisheries bureau on a charge of illegally fishing in Alaskan waters. The Japanese were placed in jail here and their boats and gear seized.

DAUGHTERS MEET WITH DIFFICULTY

PRELIMINARY SESSION HELD

Flags Will Be Presented to Military Companies by Mrs Stonewall Jackson—Address of Welcome by Governor

Richmond, Va., Nov. 7.—With five thousand people, mostly women, trying to force their way into a theatre, which would seat one-fourth of that number, the preliminary session of the United Daughters of the Confederacy at the Academy of Music tonight was delayed two hours while police officers were doing their best to clear the building. Under the city law persons are not permitted to stand in the aisles of a theatre, but the crowd surged in when the doors were opened completely filling every available space to the danger point. In the face of these conditions the house management refused to allow the curtain to rise, while Chief of Police Werner, assisted by a squad of men, endeavored courteously to clear the aisles and lobbies.

Speaking from one of the boxes, a delegate to the convention requested Richmond people to leave so that the Daughters might attend the welcoming ceremony held in their honor. Immediately the Richmond Light Infantry Blues and the Richmond Howitzers, two military organizations invited to receive special war flags which were to be presented by Mrs. Stonewall Jackson and Mrs. J. E. B. Stuart, arose and finally managed to reach the street. Two hours after the doors were opened the Academy had assumed normal proportions and the meeting proceeded.

Addresses of welcome were delivered by Governor Mann and Mayor Richardson, to which Mrs. Daisy McLaurin Stephens, of Mississippi, responded.

CHESTER TO MARSEILLES

Scout Cruiser Goes to Tripoli and Leaves Immediately

Washington, Nov. 7.—The scout cruiser Chester, which was sent from Malta to Tripoli by the State Department for the avowed purpose of ascertaining the extent of the cholera outbreak, has completed her mission and is on her way to Marseilles. American Consul Wood, at Tripoli, said he stood in no need of help and rather than jeopardize the health of the ship's company, Commander Decker sailed for Marseilles which is reported free from cholera. He will await orders there.

Although the State Department insists that the sole purpose of the Chester's visit to Tripoli was to proffer help in case the American consul or Americans in that port were in danger from cholera, it is regarded as probable that Commander Decker acquired precise information as to the military situation in Tripoli and vicinity notwithstanding the severe censorship imposed by the Italian government.

ATHLETICS MAKE HIT.

Morgan, Coombs and Bender Make Good in Atlantic City Debut.

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 7.—Cy Morgan, Jack Coombs and Chief Bender, pitchers of the world champion Athletics, opened their vaudeville engagement here today in an act which was unanimously voted as being the best ever staged by baseball players. They are supported by Kathryn Pearl and Violet Pearl, two clever young women, who also scored individual hits in the production.

The baseball players surprised the throng of spectators. Morgan's singing was the big feature of the act while Coombs and Bender showed much stage ability. All three players appeared perfectly at ease, their singing and dancing being a credit to even seasoned stage professionals. The men have an excellent baseball sketch, replete with bright jokes, which they delivered in telling style.

SHOT FOR BURGLAR

Revenue Cutter Firemen Claim They Only Wanted to Buy Tobacco

Baltimore, Nov. 6.—Peter Barnard, twenty-five years old, a native of Holland, and Patrick J. Burke, twenty-six years of age, of 100 Sterling street, Cleveland, Ohio, firemen on the revenue cutter Windom, were shot at Arundel Cove, on the Patapsco river, last night, by Thomas Travers, son of a storekeeper. Barnard died later of his wounds, and Burke is reported to be in a critical condition. Travers claims he fired because he thought the men were trying to break into his store to rob it. It was late at night, he said, and they tried to batter in the door.

The firemen declared that they went to the store only for the purpose of buying tobacco and cigarettes, and that when they knocked on the door, after finding the place closed for the night, they were shot.

are other recent convincing demonstrations that flights in this type of machine are a new and growing phase of aviation that is bound to become widely popular throughout the world.

Lieuts. Eellyson and Towers' flight was not only a notable performance, but was of tremendous value in naval affairs, as it demonstrates that a machine of this type, with the double control, can carry two operators who can operate the machine at will, leaving at all times one free to make observations or handle explosives during military operations. It was also of unusual interest to note that so safe did these naval officers feel in the hydro-aeroplane that no boat followed them on this remarkable journey.

Lieut. Ellyson, in writing to Glenn H. Curtiss, gave the following interesting incidents about the flights:

"I steered for the first half hour and then Towers for the same length of time. At the end of an hour the water connections on top of the radiator began to leak and water went on the magneto, causing the engine to miss Towers climbed and repaired the leak the best he could and had to hold the waterpipe in place, which he did for over an hour while I drove.

"After two hours' flying, having covered 147 miles, the oil guage seemed to be getting low and we decided to land. This we accomplished in a six foot surf with a 20-mile wind behind us. I ran the machine high on the beach, coming in at full speed, just touching the crests of the waves. Much to our surprise, the boat was not injured in the least."

The Curtiss training school on North Island, at San Diego, Cal., opened for the Winter season on October 20th. Ward Fisher, of Rochester, N. Y., is the business manager of the school this season, and Lieut. John W. McClaskey, of United States Marine Corps, is in charge of the camp, and chief instructor. A number of pupils, who were present on the opening day, came from Hammondsport, while others, who joined, came from all parts of the country. The pupils this season are to be trained in flying the hydro-aeroplane, as well as the standard Curtiss cross-country and military biplane.

NAPTHALENE ROAD TARS.

Interesting Experiments and Deductions by Agricultural Department.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 7.—As a large part of the road work in this country seems destined to be effected by the use of tars in road treatment and construction, a systematic investigation of the effect of various constituents upon the adaptability of tars as road binders is of great importance.

Hence, the recent circular issued by the United States Department of Agriculture on "The Effect of Napthalene Upon the Consistency of Refined Tars" (Office of Public Roads, Circular No. 96), is a valuable contribution to good roads literature. While definite conclusions are not announced, the results strongly indicate for determinate facts:

1. That the fluxing value of naphthalene for tar pitches is somewhat greater, although quite similar, to the heavier naphthalene-free tar distillates, until the mixture becomes saturated with naphthalene;

2. That for the harder tar pitches the addition of very small percentages of naphthalene will produce a marked increase in fluidity of the resulting product;

3. That for the softer pitches the addition of naphthalene in small quantities causes less increase in fluidity than for the harder pitches;

4. That where naphthalene is added beyond the point of saturation a rapid decrease in the fluidity of tars at temperatures below the melting point of naphthalene is observed, but at temperatures above its melting point the fluidity continues to increase.

Further, evidences point to the fact that, within a reasonable degree of accuracy, it should be possible to foretell, by use of the data given in the pamphlet, what consistency to expect from the addition of a given percentage of naphthalene to a tar pitch or refined tar of known consistency, irrespective of the free carbon content of the tar.

WON IN CORN CONTEST

Davidson County Citizen Raises 158 Bushels on One Acre

Lexington, Nov. 7.—Mr. P. D. Finch, a citizen of Lexington township and one of the leading farmers of Davidson county, won out this year in the men's corn contest, according to the reports of the official measures, who met here today. Mr. Finch made the remarkable record of 158 bushels on one acre. This is the more amazing on account of the destructive dry spell that almost ruined the corn crop in this section this year. A worse season for raising corn could not have been made to order, yet Mr. Finch beat last year's record by 49 bushels. The next man was Mr. J. A. Myers, of Tyro, with 107 bushels, and after him Mr. J. E. Meredith, of Thomasville, with 90 bushels.

MOUNTAIN BOYS.

Education Being Urged by the ...n Commercial Congress.

...gton, November 7.—James ... Thomas, who since June of this ... has been studying the education... needs of the South as Commissioner of Education of the Southern Commercial Congress, on November 1st, became associated with the field work of Berry School, of Rome, Ga., made nationally famous by the efforts of Martha Berry, as a school for boys and girls of mountain regions of the South, remote from schooling privileges.

Mr. Thomas sees in the Berry school an opportunity for providing education for a large number of boys in the South, and through these boys a means of bringing this great region to an understanding that the truest education is that which prepares the student for life. Mr. Thomas will travel extensively through the Southern States, meeting educators and emphasizing that, as the great resources of the South are physical resources, the educational ideal should be the training of both hand and mind, so as to transform the resources of the South into results of national importance. He will devote much time to careful study of the more mountainous sections of the South and will plan the establishment of a number of schools designed to provide practical training for hundreds of boys and girls who are now remote from elementary educational advantages.

ACCUSED OF MURDER.

Robert G. Childers Indicted on Charge of Poisoning Bride.

Leesburg, Ga., Nov. 6. — Charged with causing the death of his wife, Ttia Richardson Childers, by placing poison in a bottle of medicine she was using, Mort S. Childers was indicted by the grand jury this afternoon. His trial probably will be started on Wednesday. The case of Robert Kennedy, a former sweetheart of the dead woman, and also charged with the crime, probably will be taken up by the grand jury tomorrow, although it is generally believed the case against Kennedy will be nolle prosequied.

The evidence presented against Childers before the grand jury was practically the same as given at his commitment trial in September. Mrs. Childers died on August 15, shortly after taking a dose of medicine from a bottle which she kept on a sideboard in the dining room of her apartment in the Kennedy home at Smithville, near here. It was testified that Childers, before leaving home that morning, had cautioned his wife to be sure to take her medicine. It also was shown that after the arrest of Kennedy in connection with the affair, Childers had left the community.

The testimony of experts as to the amount of arsenic in the medicine left in the bottle and in the woman's stomach, which was not produced at the commitment trial, is expected to figure in the trial of Childers.

EATS 20C. MEAL.

Daughter of Millionaire Dines With Workmen in Overalls.

(Special to Baltimore Sun.)

New York, Nov. 6.—Sitting at a table with six workmen in greasy overalls, Miss Anne Morgan, daughter of J. Pierpont Morgan, ate and apparently enjoyed a 20-cent meal this afternoon in the restaurant she founded about three years ago in the Brooklyn navy yard. And while she ate, her taxicab was industriously chugging outside, grinding up a bill of about $3.50.

Miss Morgan's meal consisted of a large plate of corned beef and cabbage. For dessert she had an apple dumpling.

She was sytlishly attired and attracted considerable attention when she sat down and gave her order for the humble fare. She apparently had a keen appetite, and her plate was clean when the waiter took it away and brought her the dumpling.

"That was fine," she announced as she paid her check and left a tip under her plate.

The workmen with whom she dined did not seem at all awed by her presence at their table.

OLDEST SQUIRE DEAD.

Brought to Office in Carriage to Aid Pensioners.

Shippensburg, Pa., Nov. 6. — The death of Thomas McCain Rudolph, the oldest justice of the peace in the United States, occurred today at the residence here of his step-aughter, Mrs. Kathryn Rudolph. He was 97 years old. His death came after an illness of two weeks and was due to the infirmities of age.

Until a few weeks ago he continued to administer the duties of his office. On the first of October he suffered an attack of grippe, and, unable to go to his office, caused a bulletin to be placed upon the door which read:

"I expect to be at my office during regular business hours October 4 to meet pensioners."

On that day the old justice was brought to his office in a carriage and a strenuous day was passed adjusting pension papers. That was the last active work done by the veteran squire.

AFFAIRS AT CLARKTON.

New Church at Brown Marsh—Other News Notes of Interest.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Clarkton, N. C., November 7. — Following several days' services which were conducted by Rev. W. P. M. Currie, of Burgaw, assisted by Rev. W. M. Shaw, of this place, a Presbyterian church was organized at the historic old Brown Marsh church, about two and a half miles from here, last Sunday, about 25 members being received by certificate. The organization was completed by the election of Mr. Guilford Horne as ruling elder and John D. Burney as deacon. The building which will be used by this organization is the oldest church building in Bladen county and one of the oldest in the State. It was built possibly over a hundred years ago. The weather boarding, which is still in good repair, was gotten out by hand, there being no saw mills here then. The pulpit with its sounding board as originally built, is a curiosity to one never having seen it.

The brick work on the new Presbyterian church here will be completed in a few weeks. This will be a handsome structure when completed. The walls are made of nice pressed brick.

Mr. W. Bruce Burney, who has been at home for some time convalescing, returned to Florida yesterday——Mr. S. N. Ferguson, of Bladenboro, was here attending to some business yesterday——Hon. O. L. Clark, accompanied by his brother, Rev. Dr. Byron Clark, left for Charlotte today to attend Synod.

NEGRO LYNCHED BY MOB

Forty Masked Men Take Prisoner from Officers and Shoot Him

Meridian, Miss., Nov. 7.—"Judge" Moseley, a negro, was taken from Deputy Sheriff Brown near Lockhart this morning by a mob of about 400 persons and lynched. The negro's body was bullet-riddled. Moseley assaulted J. H. Covington, white, with a stick at Lockhart yesterday.

The trouble which resulted in the lynching occurred yesterday at Lockhart, a station north of this city. Moseley assaulted Covington with a stick. The latter was beaten over the head and also had one arm broken. A posse searched the woods for Moseley all afternoon and by quick work the negro was placed in jail.

Covington was unable to appear at the trial today and the negro was ordered taken to Meridan for safe-keeping. Deputy Sheriff Brown left immediately in a buggy. When about two miles out of town he was met by a mob of forty masked men who demanded the negro. Brown remonstrated without avail. Brown says just after turning back to Lockhart he heard shots in the woods toward the place where the negro was taken. There is much excitement at Lockhart according to advices to the sheriff here who sent deputies there today to help preserve order.

CORNER IN CRANBERRIES.

Ravorite Sauce Will Cost More Than Turkey This Fall.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Dreams of cranberry sauce with Thanksgiving turkey will receive a rude awakening about the day of the anticipated feast, according to the predictions of local fruit dealers.

Several fruit dealers charge that a "corner" on the delectable berry has been gained by the American Cranberry Association, and that the concern is boosting the price far beyond the reach of the ordinary consumer. One dealer said he expected the price to jump to $15 a barrel or $8 more a barrel than it was lost year, within the next week, and to keep on soaring.

"The berries sold in September at $5 and $6 a barrel, and they are now selling at $15 a barrel," he said. "The price never went this high before. There is no shortage in the market, the crop is just as large as last year and the American Cranberry Association, the agents for the growers, is holding them back and raising the price by creating a scarcity."

TO MURDERS' ROW.

Unless New Trial is Granted, Beattie Will Land There.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 7.—Unless the State Supreme Court of Appeals grants a new trial for Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., before tomorrow, the young man convicted of the murder of his wife will be moved from the Richmond city jail to murderers' row in the death house at the State penitentiary. According to the law a man condemned to electrocution must be lodged in the penitentiary 50 days before the date set for his death.

The court which has under advisement Beattie's petition for a writ of errors, sits tomorrow, but may not give its decision. If it should not decide the appeal before the date set for the execution, that would act as a stay.

—Friends will be glad to know that Mr. O. F. Cooper, secretary of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, who underwent a minor operation at the James Walker Memorial Hospital a few days ago, is getting along very nicely and will be out again in a few days.

Durham, N. C., Nov. 7.—D. D. Belvins was caught in a cotton gin here today and was whirled for three minutes over revolving rods, one arm being torn off before he was extricated. His condition is serious.

WHY DO THEY DO IT?

"Why people should weep over the imaginary sorrows shown on the stage, when there is so much real sorrow in the world, I never could understand," says a well known writer.

And it is just as hard for us to see why people will suffer needlessly for months or years. Here is the case of M. Carter, of South Akron, O., who says:

"For two years I was in a badly run-down condition, felt weak and miserable and lost considerable flesh. Then I heard that Vinol was a great thing to build up the body and create new strength.

"Now, after taking Vinol and getting so much good from it I have decided to write and tell you that it has made me strong and well again, and I have gained in weight, too."

If you are weak and sickly, need new strength and better blood, take Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron remedy, for depend upon it, that is what you need and it will build you up. We guarantee it—money back if you are not satisfied. Robt. R. Bellamy, Druggist, Wilmington, N. C.

COL. DOCKERY'S DEATH.

Gloom Over Rockingham Community, Death From Erysipelas.

Rockingham, N. C., Nov. 7.—All Rockingham and surrounding country mourns the death of Col. H. C. Dockery, which was announced briefly in the morning papers.

Col. Dockery suffered an attack of grip recently and during convalescence received a scratch on the hand that later developed erysipelas, this was followed by a complication of stomach trouble and a return of diabetes, from which he was a sufferer at times. No serious fears, however, were entertained as to his recovery until the heart became affected. During the afternoon yesterday, Col. Dockery's condition grew rapidly worse and death came just at midnight.

Col. Dockery has for a number of years been a leader in all that tended for the development of this section and was prominently identified with every forward movement for this section of the Carolinas. He was the first promoter of the movement for the Charlotte to Wilmington highway and an ardent advocate of the good roads movement generally. In addition to his work as editor of the Rockingham Post, Mr. Dockery had large farming interests in Richmond county.

Col. Dockery represented his county in the Legislature in the eighties, was United States marshal for the Eastern District of North Carolina for eight years and was at one time a candidate for State Treasurer on the Republican ticket. Col. Dockery was a son of the late General Alfred Dockery, who was at one time candidate for Governor on the Whig ticket. He was a brother of the late Oliver H. Dockery.

Col. Dockery is survived by his wife who was Miss Minnie Everett, of Rockingham, three sons, Messrs. John C. Dockery, Henry C. Dockery, Jr., and W. E. Dockery and three daughters, Misses Fannie and Sarah Lily Dockery and Mrs. Grimes Haywood, of Raleigh. All of the children except Mrs. Haywood live in Rockingham.

The Peevish Child Needs a Laxative

It is natural for a child to laugh and play and when it sulks drowsily or cries you may depend on it something physical is the matter. If you see no evidences of a serious ailment you will not be wrong if you quietly give it a dose of mild laxative that evening on putting it to bed.

The remedy most generally recommended for this purpose is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which mothers throughout the country have been giving their children for a quarter of a century. Today thousands of families are using it where hundreds used it then, and there must be good reason for this word of mouth recommendation.

It is admittedly the perfect laxative for children, women, old people and all others who need a gentle bowel stimulant and not a violent salt, cathartic pill or doctored water. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will act gently, and when taken before retiring will bring complete satisfaction in the morning. After a short use of this remedy all forms of outside aid can be dispensed with and nature will again act alone.

All classes of good American people keep it in the home for ills of the stomach, liver and bowels, and among the thousands who have written the doctor that they will never be without it are Mrs. J. W. Brooks, Durham, N. C., and Mrs. C. M. Branch, Apex, N. C. A dose of it has saved many a person from a serious illness.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

AFFAIRS AT STATE CAPITAL

Col. Kenan Critically Ill---Raleigh Y. M. C. A.—Judge Connor Hears Cases in Chambers—The Hookworm Campaign

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 7.—The condition of Col. Thomas S. Kenan, for many years clerk of the North Carolina Supreme Court, continues extremely critical with death expected at any time. The deep anxiety and interest in his condition that is manifested in his condition by people in every part of the State is a splendid tribute to the admirable personality and useful career of the Colonel.

The directors of the Raleigh Y. M. C. A. have confirmed the sale of the surplus lot and two houses on the site for the association building, corner of Edenton and Wilmington streets, to C. C. McDonald, who made the purchase for Rufus J. Hunter. The directors propose now to get to work on the association building with the least possible delay. A special committee will go to Greensboro Thursday to take a look at the association building there which is nearing completion. This committee comprises C. E. Hunter, Secretary E. M. Hall, B. F. Montague, Joe Weathers, W. A. Cooper and W. H. Williamson.

Sheriff E. M. Lyta, of Buncombe county, was here today to deliver to the penitentiary H. F. Roberts, of Asheville, to serve a five-year sentence for embezzlement of funds from a life insurance company with which he was connected as agent. He has a wife and one child; and is 32 years old.

Judge H. G. Connor, of the United States Court, has gone to Wilmington to hear a number of cases in chambers. Before leaving Raleigh he gave a hearing in the case of W. M. Camp vs. W. R. Bonsal and R. F. Brewer, involving the sale of an immense timber holding in Robeson and Richmond counties on which there is estimated to be forty million feet of lumber. Camp and Brewer were associated in the timber holding and Camp claims that Brewer exceeded his authority in effecting a sale to Bonsal and received a $5,000 payment to which he had no right. Brewer is a Tennesseean now and there is an exception on the part of the defendants to the jurisdiction of the court in this State.

With the decision of Wake and Vance counties to make the $250 appropriation each, necessary to secure the operation of free dispensaries for the eradication of hookworm disease, there are in the State 20 counties that have taken this step and 14 of the counties have already had their service by the dispensaries which are operated under the direction of Dr. Ferrell, secretary in charge of this hookworm campaign, under the joint auspices of the Rokefeller commission and the State Board of Health. With six counties on the waiting list for these dispensaries it will be January before Wake and Vance, the latest to make the provision for the work, can have their dispensary service in operation. It requires about six weeks to a county campaign.

The Corporation Commission makes an order today overruling exceptions of the Southern Railway to the order of the Commission that the Southern and Seaboard Air Line join in a union station at Rutherfordton and directing the railroad companies to submit plans for an adequate union passenger station within 30 days.

The Eastern Carolina Christian Conference, in session this week at Catawba Christian Church, near Raleigh, today selected Pleasant Union Church, Harnett county, as the place of next meeting, for the 1912 conference, and named Rev. Herbert Scholtz, of Macon, to deliver the annual address.

Concerning the theft of $20,000 from the registered mail reported from Greensboro, a shipment that originated at Raleigh and was addressed to New York, it is learned here that the package really disappeared July 20th, and not a week ago as reports had it. Registry was insured fully so neither the government or the Raleigh bank suffered any loss from the theft.

Tom Aldridge, a student of Shaw University, colored, here, was taken to Goldsboro tonight to answer a charge, along with a brother, John Aldridge, of forging the name of Geo. W. Autry, to a check they gave in purchase of a load of watermelons. The alleged forgery was during the past Summer. The negro student was in Wake jail here this afternoon.

ROBESON SUPERIOR COURT

Term for Trial of Criminal Cases Convened Monday--Other Notes

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, N. C., Nov. 7.—Robeson Superior Court for the trial of criminal cases convened yesterday morning with Judge Carter presiding and Solicitor Sinclair, representing the State. Judge Carter's charge to the grand jury, of which Mr. M. F. Floyd was made foreman, was declared by many to be one of the most able charges they ever heard delivered to a grand jury in the county.

At the meeting of the Board of Road Supervisors, Mr. N. C. Hughes tendered his resignation as superintendent to take to take effect Dec. 24th. Mr. Hughes is one of the best road men in this section of the State and his determination to leave is much regretted.

Mr. W. D. Prevatt, who has been for several years keeper of the county chain gang, also tendered his resignation and his son, Mr. Oscar Prevatt, was elected to fill the vacancy.

FOR WOODROW WILSON.

Big Insurance Man Prefers Him to Reactionary Republican.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 7.—The Detroit Times prints the following:

"I am a Republican by inheritance and training," said Laurence Cameron Hull, manager of the Detroit agency of the Equitable Life Insurance Co., and formerly head of the Orchard Lake Military Academy, "but against a Republican Presidential candidate of the unprogressive type I would certainly support Woodrow Wilson. I admire the man greatly and I admire the work that he has done in cleaning up in New Jersey, which was entirely under the domination of the railroads, until he was elected governor. He is a strong man, a scholarly man, with the best of academic training and he has shown that a man does not have to be a master of practical politics to be politically successful. He has shown that a man of intellectual training can meet the practical politician at his own game and secure results. He has actually accomplished more for New Jersey than has ever been accomplished before by the politicians.

"I believe that there are more men trained for administrators in the Republican party today than in the Democratic party, though I can find no fault with the statesmanship exhibited by the Democratic majority in the last House of Representatives. They made a record which is highly creditable.

"I am sure that my views are shared by a large number of Republicans and that Woodrow Wilson could swing many Republican votes if he were running against a Republican of the reactionary type.

CLARK REUNIO..

Descendants of Late John Hector Clark Gathered on Monday

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Clarkton, N. C., Nov. 7.—Eight sons and daughters, 25 grandchildren, and seven great grandchildren of the late Hon. John Hector Clark, the founder of Clarkton, and whose name it bears, went to make up the party that attended the Clark Reunion here Monday.

Soon after ten o'clock people with baskets—for the dinner was regular old picnic style—were seen coming from every direction and going to Mr. O. L. Clark's residence the place appointed for the meeting and merry-making among relatives who would soon return to their homes far and near.

For about three hours all hearts were light. Young and older ones too, joined in the childish games, laughter was heard from all directions for every one was happy. Son dinner was announced, then everything was quiet, for every one was busy eating.

Never was there a grander or more delicious old Southern dinner spread. The Clark family spreads from the Atlantic to the Pacific coasts. On this occasion Miss Mabel Clark, of Beaufort, N. C., and Mrs. R. L. Thomas, of Seattle, Washington, were present.

Among others from out-of-town were: Mrs. R. B. Cromartie and Miss Agnes Cromartie, of Elizabethtown, N. C., and Dr. Byron Clark, of Salisbury, N. C. The remainder of the number present goes to help make up the little town of Clarkton.

DEATHS AT CERRO GORDO

First Monday in Whiteville—Patient for Hospital Here

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Nov. 7.—Since last Saturday there have been three deaths at Cerro Gordo—Mr. A. D. Williamson, one of the most respected citizens of our county; a child of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Perry, and Miss Mazzie Thompson, a bright and lovely young lady attending school there. The remains of the latter were carried to Loris, S. C., her former home, for interment.

Yesterday but a few farmers were in town, being hard at work at home. The commissioners were in session all day and until after dark, looking into the public affairs. They ordered small heaters put into the rooms of the inmates of the county home at once.

Mr. Strole, in charge of experimental farm work in this county, appeared before the board and suggested that the appropriation of $300 made by the government to instruct the farmers in intensive agricultural methods be augmented by a like amount from the county, so that work can be made more general another year.

Dr. James Northington and Mr. Yewell, of Boardman, left Saturday with Mr. Chester Stewart for the James Walker Memorial Hospital in Wilmington, where he will be treated for typhoid pneumonia. Mr. Stewart is one of Boardman's most popular young gentlemen.

Greensooro, N. C., Nov. 7.—James A. Hemstreet and Ira D. Waterman, expert automobile drivers and pathfinders, who have been employed by the American Automobile Association to lay out a new route for the association from Jacksonville to New York and to make a trip map, were in Greensboro Monday night.

They arrived late at night after one of the hardest days of the trip due to bad weather and also to bad stretches of road as a result of heavy rains. They left Jacksonville October 29th, three days after the arrival of the Glidden tourists in the Florida city. Mr. Hemstreet said that a tour is now being organized over the new stretch to make the first trip the latter part of this month. The entire route, which is being laid out as a short-cut from Jacksonville to New York, will be new with the exception of a stretch from Charlotte to Greensboro, which will be over the route of the National highway. The new route will be called for the present the New, Augusta, Savannah road. After spending a night in Greensboro Mr. Hemstreet and Mr. Waterman left for Lynchburg.

From the piedmont and western sections of North Carolina come reports of exceptionally fine corn yields this year. It is said that in Buncombe and other counties west of the Blue Ridge the yield will probably be the largest in many years if not in fact, a record-breaker.

Manager H. R. Boswell, of the Davidson College football team, and W. S. Clary, Jr., of Davidson College, were here yesterday making final arrangements for the Dividson College-Wake Forest football game in Greensboro Saturday. Mr. Boswell and Mr. Clary both were enthusiastic over Davidson's material and prospects and expresesd confidence in the ability of the Prebyterians to defeat the Baptists when they meet on the gridiron Saturday.

The county commissioners of Guilford have designated December 11th as the date for the people in various townships in Guilford county affected an opportunity to vote on the question of issuing bonds to aid in the building of the Randolph and Cumberland Railway. The townships through which the proposed railroad will pass and which will vote on the bond proposition are High Point, Sumner, Friendship, Gilmer and White Oak. It is proposed that the new road run from some point on the Seaboard in Moore county, possibly Cameron to Winston-Salem and on to Greensboro. The towns through which the road will pass if constructed are Carthage, Ashboro and High Point. There was some objection raised to fixing the date for the election December 11th, those objecting represented the Greensboro and Roxboro Railroad Company and said that an election would soon be asked allowing the people to vote on the question of issuing bonds for that road and that two elections coming so close together would be very expensive. Those appearing before the commissioners in the interest of the Randolph and Cumberland road insisted that the election be held December 11th, saying that it was contemplated asking other counties through which the road will pass including Moore, Chatham, Randolph, Forsyth and Yadkin to hold elections on that date.

THE CAPITAL HIGHWAY.

Great Importance of Capital Highway in Good Roads Building.

(Fayetteville Observer, 7th.)

Last week scout cars passed through Fayetteville on a tour of inspection of the roads between Atlanta and Richmond, with a view to choosing the permanent route of "The Capital Highway", extending from New York to Atlanta. The prospects are that Fayetteville will be on the highway.

This movement of a capital highway does not simply mean a good automobile route. It means that Fayetteville will be put in touch with a great national movement which is bending every energy towards the establishment of permanent good roads from county to county and from State to State.

whether in business or social life depends almost entirely upon health. Would you dominate instead of walking in the ruck? As Whitman says "Do you not see how it would serve to have eyes, blood, complexion clean and sweet, to have such a body and soul that when you enter a crowd, an atmosphere of desire and command enters with you and every one is impressed with your personality?"

Wednesday, November 8, 1911.

Some of us try to recall our Presi dent every four years.

After all, it was decided that President Taft was entitled to vote in the Cincinnati election. Of course, he voted like he has been talking—with the stand-pat crowd.

Says the Washington Post: "Col. Bryan's endorsement is the final spoonful of basting on Bob. LaFollette's goose." Never mind. Col. Rosevelt may yet do the same thing for President Taft.

Mayor Shank, of Indianapolis, boasts: "Every dollar I've got I made out of the Republican party." By George, Shank doesn't give a bit of credit to the people out of whose pockets the G. O. P. wrung the money to enrich him.

Has anybody ever heard a squeal from farmers who raise their own meat and supplies? No farmer from war times till now has ever been known to be down in the mouth if he raised something to eat while raising something to sell.

The United States Treasury Department announces that there is no truth in the rumor that the nickles minted in 1910 are not the genuine article. It is not necessary, therefore, for bankers to carefully scrutinize an editor's hoard when he drops in to make a deposit.

The interests pretended to believe that Roosevelt was a bull in the china shop, but when election time rolled around they dumped the fat when the frying began. Watch how gracefully they will contribute for Republican success next year. They like the way the tariff hasn't been revised by its friends.

Col. Roosevelt has written another article in The Outlook to take a crack at Taft's arbitration treaties. Isn't he violating his promise to keep quiet while the President is trying to make the people believe he sprung something big when he discovered arbitration without thinking over all the consequences.

In the New York election yesterday, seven constitutional amendments were submitted to the vote of the people. That means a referendum on amending the constitution, the highest law in the land, yet some people in New York oppose the referendum when it comes to submitting ordinary legislative acts for popular ratification.

The United States Department of Agriculture announces that on 12 acres of land near Summerville, South Carolina, it has grown 12,000 pounds of tea worth $1 a pound. That is equivalent to $1,000 an acre, but it is not stated what has been the cost of production. However, there seems to be plenty of room for profit in a gross result of $1,000 per acre in tea.

The New York World is crying aloud "No Boss Made Judges," and remarks: "In the judiciary scandal in the Second District the taint of boodle is indelible." Investigation has not only confirmed but greatly strengthened the ground for suspicion, the World adds in an earnest way. Boss made judges and a political judiciary won't tend to drown the cry for popular recall of the judiciary.

It is strange how cities cling to tradition. A man once got a square meal in Columbia and the Columbia State thenceforth called South Carolina's capital city the Square Meal Town. It is said they really do try to imitate that historic meal, although the high cost of living makes it necessary for a gourmet to kick like Ikey Einstein when an attempt is made to serve round steak with a square meal.

CAN TAFT TIE THE CAN?

At the great naval inspection in New York a few days ago, there were 98 monster fighting ships that cost hundreds of millions of dollars. That amount of money spent in freight ships would enable the United States to conquer the trade of the world, if we would but trade on liberal terms with all the nations with which it is desirable to deal.

James G. Blaine, a real Republican statesman, once came to the conclusion that reciprocity with all countries would restore the American merchant marine and build up our commerce, but he died in the midst of a fatuitous dream. The "Plumed Knight" was survived by Stand-patters who forthwith raided the treasury for the benefit of special interests. Americans have submitted to their "hold up" for years and years, although they laugh at the Chinese for having had the pigtail fashion imposed on them so long that they take it as a matter of course. In fact, the pigtail is one way of tieing the can to the Chinamen, while a tariff tax for the benefit of the other fellow is one of the ways of tieing the can to Americans.

Men who vote such an indefinite and discriminating tax on themselves, for the benefit of the privileged set, are called Republicans. However, thousands of them, having glanced over their shoulders and seen the can dangling behind them, have resolved to be the kind of Democrat that kicks like blazes when he sees somebody sneaking up with a can labeled with anything in the nature of the "full dinner pail." Standpatters were once caught working the can game in that guise, and thereupon they disguised it, and slipped it into a payroll envelope labeled "prosperity". That worked like a charm till the Roosevelt panic came along and proved that taxing the masses to make the few rich made bread and meat scarce when the factories shut down right in the midst of prosperity. The masses found out that prosperity means plenty for "big business," without reference to how the masses took care of themselves, and that when a panic comes "big business" locks up its swag, shuts down the industries and lets the crowd stand around with the empty can bringing up the rear.

The "full dinner pail" and "prosperity" have been worked to the limit, and it left President Taft in such a fix that it sorely taxed his originality to cover up the can. He devised reciprocity with Canada and beat the tom-toms, and the Democrats, always hankering after "some measure of relief," joined right in the procession. The Canadians saw it coming and gave it the wily horse laugh. Seeing that reciprocity meant obliteration of Canada's fiscal system, placing her entire industrial system on a level with ours, and logically subordinating their systems to American standpattery, the Canadians simply passed the deal.

President Taft proved himself a good leader of the tom-tom brigade, but, to save his soul, he was not general enough to figure out why the whole crowd followed him on his reciprocity jaunt. The folks in the procession thought it meant a measure of relief from tariff burdens, not considering the fact that the measure was about the size of a quart cup. Nevertheless, when the real time for relief came, President Taft, failing to read the signs of the times, vetoed real tariff revision bills and tried to bridge the chasm with his Tariff Board. However, the crowd won't follow and get dumped where the "can" can be tied on again at leisure.

President Taft will have to find something else to disguise the can. On the eve of the Presidential election year, we wonder what the thunder will be his next stunt to keep the can from rattling. Can Taft tie the can?

THE GOVERNORS AND IMMIGRATION.

The Star made use of an editorial from the Baltimore Sun a few days ago with reference to an invitation by Governor Crothers to the Governors of the Southern States to meet in conference in Baltimore to set on foot some practical step in a movement to attract immigration to the South. The Sun on Monday says about this immigration conference:

"Every Southern Governor should attend the conference to be held in this city the first week in December to discuss the whole immigration question and devise some practical plan to attract immigrants to the South. Several executives accepted the invitations at once and others are arranging their engagements so as to attend. A dozen Western executives will be here at the same time. It will be 'Governor's Week,' as well as Maryland Week, and we must be prepared to entertain them in good style. The time is short, and Governor Crothers and Mayor Preston should take the lead in providing entertainment for the governors, and a meeting place for the conference. Committee should be appointed to get to work at once and prepare a definite programme. The United States Commissioner of Immigration, the Secretary of Commerce and Labor and other authorities should be urged to attend and give the Governors the benefit of their knowledge and experiences. Presidents of leading railroads and representatives of steamship lines will be present. This promises to be a notable conference, one that should produce practical results. The entire South is interested, and Baltimore can be depended upon to do its part."

Every movement of this character should have the hearty endorsement of the entire South. One of the great drawbacks to the development of our latent resources is the lack of man units, for it requires both labor and capital to undertake development along lines outside the ordinary. Labor is a tremendous factor in development, and with the limited amount at our command, engaged in the agricultural and industrial activities of the South, we are employing our labor resources to the limit. Naturally, there is no opportunity for development on broader lines since we have to confine our progress to those immediate undertakings which are themselves calling for more capital and more labor.

With a shortage of labor units, capital cannot be employed as rapidly as might be the case, hence our progress is confined to the average which must come by the limited forces at hand. It is hoped, therefore, the Governors will attend that Baltimore conference and devise some plan by which absolutely certain results can be secured.

The Governors are getting to be especially useful in their collective capacities, and we shall look with interest to their discussions and plans to bring to the South a class of worthy people for whom there are unlimited opportunities along all lines of endeavor.

The Hon. Champ Clark declares he could defeat Taft in every State of the Union, on a plank favoring the annexation of Canada. The annexation of Canada is not an issue in this country and never will be till Canada takes the initiative with Great Britain's approval. It is time enough to talk annexation when Canada wants it, and considering her attitude, she is a long ways from seriously considering such a thing.

Sometimes it pays to be up against it as a Nation as well as an individual. Necessity continues to be the mother of invention, and it seems our potash necessity has put us to work in a practical way. Says the New York World: "Our dispute with Germany over the potash problem is about to end in our favor by an appeal to science instead of to The Hague. The stuff having been found to be indispensable, our experts of the Agricultural Department have devised a means of bringing it forth from certain soils and from seaweed. We may be selling potash to Germany soon." Next thing we hear of will be sea-weed farms on the coast of North Carolina. Nature has a wonderful storehouse.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Secretary Meyer, of the Navy Department, announces that he has decided not to abandon the Charleston navy yard. Wonder whether the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot will continue to say Charleston has no harbor.—Petersburg Index-Appeal.

When the South Carolina farmer firmly grasps that idea about producing his own food necessaries, including tea, sugar, coffee, corn, garden "sass," fruit, wheat, rye, beef, mutton, pork and so on, trouble about poor cotton prices will be immaterial.—Charleston Post.

Arbuckle, the sugar refiner, who is fighting trusts and tariffs, points out that the tax on sugar falls as heavily upon a poor man as a rich man, which, of course, is true. It is true also of practically all taxes upon the necessaries. That is exactly why we have a protective tariff.—St. Louis Republic.

In the next presidential election half a million women will be entitled to vote. With the suffrage cause thus far advanced it can hardly be considered any more in the light of an experiment. What the West has done in admitting women to a share in the making of the laws under which they must live, the East can and eventually will do.—St. Louis Republic.

A Baltimore priest deprecates and denounces the practice of throwing rice after a newly married couple. He says it is a relic of barbarism. More than that, it is a very wasteful practice. Rice is an excellent food, nutritious and healthful. In view of the present high cost of living, it would be much more sensible to put the rice into little bags and send it around to the flat of the happy couple.—Savannah News.

Which is the richest State in the Union? Garnault Agassiz of New Or-State, he point out, is producing about one-half of the sulphur used in the world and is doing it with about 400 men. Then it has tremendous deposits of rock salt, deposits capable of turning out millions of tons every year. In addition there are within the borders of the State millions of acres of very rich alluvial lands which are now in process of reclamation for agricultural purposes. These lands will grow about anything that can be grown in the temperate zone. So far as we are aware, Georgia has neither sulphur nor rock salt, but with her marble, granite, kaolin, gold and other mineral deposits, and with her rich farming lands, we are pretty sure that she would measure up with any State of the South in natural wealth. —Savannah News.

ROCKY POINT AFFAIRS.

Crop Prospects in Pender—Personal and Other Items of Interest.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Point, N. C., Nov. 7—No frost here yet. Vegetation looks almost like August second-crop tomatoes. Butter beans, new cabbage and other vegetables grace the table in this land of ours, with frost so far off that the humming mosquito and the snake have not yet sought Winter quarters. Messrs. R. S. and J. C. Futch have just harvested wonderful sweet potato crops, nearly 300 bushels per acre as a second crop after strawberries. Immediately after the potatoes were harvested the disc harrow is in use to plant another strawberry crop. Thus the lands of these successful farmers do not remain long idle. There is a sound of "a going of the bird hunters' guns abroad in the land. Dr. Pender Porter, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Mr. C. H. Virgilieu, of New York, are bringing in the birds.

Miss Josephine Newton, of Poplarville, Miss., is visiting Mrs. T. J. Armstrong.——Rev. Chas. Lance preached his farewell sermon here before leaving for conference at Kinston. It is the desire of all that he be returned to this work.——Mr. C. H. Loper, capitalist and real estate dealer, is interested in Rocky Point grit and will remain here for some time to come.

The week-end found the following visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. T. Jones; Mrs. Gaston Phares, of Jacksonville, Fla.; Mrs. J. W. Morris and daughter, of Fremont; Mr. Gaston Phares, Queen City; Mr. Jas. Jones, of Wilmington; Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Bain, of Wilmington; Mrs. Milkensop, of the A. C. L., Wilmington; Mr. Frank Warrock, Wilmington. There is to be a big 'possum hunt tonight and quite a few of the above will enter the hunt. The prices paid for fur are quite remunerative. Think of a coon hide bringing $2.75 and that of the opossum fetching $1 and the meat left over for the catcher.

DURHAM'S NEW SCHOOL.

Bonds Authorized by Aldermen—Auto Fire Apparatus Purchased.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Durham, N. C., Nov. 7.—The board of aldermen last night placed themselves on record as favoring the bond election to provide for money with which to build a new school house in the city. They took no definite action last night, but it was the sense of the board that the election be held, and that the date be set for some time in January. A strong effort was made to hold the election in December, but the proximity of Christmas, and the short length of time in which to go through all the operations that must necessarily be performed before a bond election between this and Christmas, caused the postponement of action. The amount of bonds to be issued for the school election is $50,000. Since the last meeting of the aldermen a committee from that body has been visiting the various schools in the city, and they were heartily in favor of the issuance of the bonds for they have seen with their own eyes the congested state of affairs that exists in the schools of the city.

The aldermen were called upon to endorse the action of the police and fire commission in purchasing a $5,500 auto truck fire engine, a combination chemical hose wagon costing $4,800, and a station costing $6,000. There was no trouble in securing the signature of the aldermen to this action. The engine itself is a perfect beauty, and is so arranged that it can be hooked up to the auto truck and sent through the city in a hurry.

FREIGHT TRAIN WRECKED.

Ten Box Cars Roll Down Hill, and Crash Into Saw Mill.

(Fayetteville Observer, 7th.)

Southbound freight train No. 209, on the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, was wrecked yesterday afternoon, about ten miles north of here, between Wade and Dunn. The wreck was caused by a broken journal. Fortunately, no one was hurt.

Ten box cars rolled down a hill and crashed into a saw mill, along the side of the road, causing considerable damage to the mill. It is said that some of the cars were loaded with vegetables, and that a profusion of cabbages and other truck was jumbled in a mass along the track. From other cars great quantities of household goods and other merchandise were strewn over the ground.

Traffic and travel were delayed for several hours, but the wreckage was finally removed, and southbound passenger train No. 89, due here at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, arrived here at 2 o'clock this morning.

CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING

Minister Egan, of Denmark, Invited to America to Speak

Washington, D. C., Nov. 7.—Chandler Hale, third assistant secretary of State, today received a call from Managing Director Dawe, of the Southern Commercial Congress. Mr. Dawe explained that the co-operation of the Department of State was desired in inviting Hon. Maurice F. Egan, Minister of Denmark, to address the next annual convention of the Congress in Nashville, April, 1912. The convention will be given over to the subjects of agriculture, education and immigration. In the division devoted to "Co-operative Marketing," Minister Egan will be invited to explain to the agricultural forces of Southern States the co-operative system of marketing dairy products inaugurated by the farmers of Denmark. Mr. Hale promised the co-operation of the department and the invitation to Minister Egan went forward today.

PLEASED WITH CAMDEN

Camden, S. C., Nov. 6.—Capt. Chandler, of the United States signal corps, was here today overlooking the proposed sites for the aviation school and signal corps camp. Several members of the Chamber of Commerce took Capt. Chandler out to a number of proposed sites near Camden.

The Alford tract, the polo field and Guinard's field near Camden, seemed to suit for the purpose. Capt. Chandler said that all of the aviators coming South this Winter are amateurs and will need plenty of space to land after a flight, and these tracts would fulfill their wants, as they are open. He is to inspect locations in several other towns before deciding definitely where the camp will be. Capt. Chandler seemed to be very much impressed with Camden as a location for the school. Passenger Agent Coleman, of the Seaboard, accompanied Capt. Chandler here.

Explorer Says He Intends to Grow Wheat in State of Washington

Southampton, England, Nov. 7.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook was a passenger on the North German Lloyd steamer George Washington, which sailed from here for New York. Cook says he intends to go to the State of Washington and retire to a large farm near Walla Walla, where he will raise wheat.

Washington, Nov. 7.—As soon as she has completed the firing tests at a caisson with the "Cannon-torpedo" Thursday, the cruiser Montgomery will sail from Norfolk for Pensacola, Fla. ## "PEOPLE ASK ME WHAT I DO"

Mrs. Warwick Does Her Work and Takes Care of Her Three Little Children Without Difficulty

Kokomo, Ind.—"I had been sick for twelve weeks," says Mrs. Matilda Warwick, of this place, "when I commenced to use Cardui. I was almost dead. I could not sit up, and nobody thought I would get well.

I had three of the best doctors in Kokomo, but they did not help me a bit. I was getting worse all the time, when a lady friend of mine told me to try Cardui. My husband got me a bottle of Cardui, and a few doses relieved my trouble.

If it had not been for Cardui, I believe I would have been dead. Now I am feeling well and strong. I can do my housework, and take care of three little children.

People ask me what I do to have such good health, and I tell them I use Cardui. One of my friends is using it now, and is getting along fine. I will never be without Cardui in my house."

Cardui is a vegetable extract, composed of valuable medicinal ingredients, which build up vitality and strengthen the womanly constitution.

During the past 50 years, Cardui has helped thousands of weak women to health and strength. If you suffer from any symptoms of womanly trouble, try Cardui. It will surely help you.

COUNCIL'S REGULAR MEETING

Routine Matters Claimed Attention of the Body Yesterday Afternoon—Reports Most Important Matter.

The time of the City Council in regular weekly session yesterday afternoon was consumed almost entirely with routine matters and the actual business transacted was of little general interest. Mayor Smith presided with all members in attendance, Councilman B. C. Moore having returned from a visit North, and present also were City Attorneys Herbert McClammy and Geo. L. Peschau; Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, city superintendent of health, and Capt. Thos. D. Meares, city clerk and treasurer.

The first matter to claim attention was the reports for the month of October. Chief of Police John J. Fowler reported that during the month there were 160 arrests, 60 whites and 100 colored. He reported that he had collected and turned over to the city $4 in pound fees. The report showed that of the total number arrested in October 50 were for drunkenness, 28 whites and 22 colored. Following the reading of the report Mayor Smith remarked that it showed that arrests were being made, but whether it indicated good order in the city was another question. Councilman B. C. Moore, in charge of this department, said that the report showed fewer arrests than the preceding month.

Chief Chas. Schnibben, of the fire department, reported that during October the department responded to six alarms of fire, the causes being as follows: Sparks from chimney, two; unknown, two; heat from lamp, one; defective flue, one; total fire loss for the month would not exceed $200.

The report of Dr. Thos. B. Carroll, meat and dairy inspection showed that his 51 inspections of the dairies and dairy farms revealed only one in bad condition and this was soon remedied after attention was called to it. He made 601 post-examinations of fresh slaughtered meats as follows: 149 cattle; 38 sheep; 414 hogs.

The health department reported 70 deaths during the month, 27 whites and 41 colored. There were 66 births, 25 whites and 41 colored. Health officers made 13,025 inspections of premises; 4,161 surface closets were ordered cleaned; 162 orders were issued for disinfectants, and 162 orders were filled. Under head of contagious diseases report was made that there were remaining November 1st, three cases of diphtheria; three of scarlet fever, and one of smallpox. No reference was made in the regular report to typhoid fever, but it was shown in a supplementary report that there were 25 cases during the month of October.

Dr. John Thames, assistant superintendent of health, reported that during the month he made 72 visits to indigent poor; 19 office consultations for indigent poor, and 41 indigent poor were sent to the James Walker Memorial Hospital.

Dr. Nesbitt, city superintendent of health, said that he had a supplementary report, which he desired the Counsel to hear. In this report he made a number of recommendations of general interest. In the outset he said that fever in Wilmington during the month of October was further proof that the disease depends upon local soil pollution for its continuance. It will be recalled that mention was made in yesterday's paper that Dr. W. D. MacMillan, the county superintendent of health, reported 25 cases of fever in the city during the month of October. In his report Dr. Nesbitt says:

"I earnestly recommend that the installation of the sanitary closet in the sections not reached by the sewerage plant be pushed vigorously in order that our typhoid rate during the coming year may be controlled. The water supply of this section of the city is obtained chiefly from driven wells, which get their flow from the surface of the upper stratum. These streams are found to be polluted with human excrement in all sections of the city and I would earnestly recommend that steps be taken to totally abolish this form of water supply. Since the first of June, 1911, there have been 60 deaths from intestinal infection among the infants of this city. These deaths without exception have occurred in that portion of the city in which the water supply is obtained from these shallow driven wells. These infections can be wholly attributed to this most dangerous source of infection.

"Until the present time the health department has refrained from prosecuting the violators of the ordinance regulating horse and cow stable maintenance. This has been done in order that many of the citizens might advantageously dispose of their stock when necessary. In the time which has elapsed since the passage of these ordinances, a great majority of those who own horses and cattle in the city have shown their willingness to comply with the law by meeting the statute or regulation. The situation and conditions in which the livery stables of this city are located renders compliance with these ordinances very difficult. In the case of the City Livery Company and the Orrell Livery stables the conditions almost prohibit the carrying out of the ordinance. The stables constitute a serious nuisance condition, and I would recommend that they be removed to a site more favorable to sanitary maintenance. It is the intention of the health department to issue warrants for violators of the stable ordinances and to attempt to rectify by this means the few remaining unsanitary stable conditions."

"The careful investigation of more than 100 premises reveals a universal disregard of the laws regulating the laying of sewers and laterals. The laying of sewer pipes has been intrusted to irresponsible workmen and it has been found that these laterals almost without exception are leaking. It is obvious that this drainage fault secures the pollution of private premises. Reports in my possession show that laterals laid in the street by the Wilmington Sewerage Company and the owners of numerous private sewers in the city are not laid in straight lines, as required by law, and as the pipe joints used are straight length, it is obvious that the joining is imperfect and leaky. This condition insures extensive and continued soil pollution wherever it exists. The numerous installations of private sewers, and the use of the city drains as sewers creates a deplorable condition in this city, and insures the continuance of this soil pollution in the residence and business sections of this city. I would recommend that immediate provision be made for a thorough and competent examination of these drains, and that a discontinuance of public water supply to all premiess connected with these private sewers and drains be provided for by ordinance as a means of obtaining effective repairs or the abandonment of these sewage outlets by the property owners. The enormous amount of this work to be done will require the appointment of one whose entire time may be given to the work and will also require the purchase of a testing machine to be used in determining the condition of these drains.

"The occurrence of 16 cases of diphtheria among school children during the month of October strongly emphasizes the necessity for the use of individual drinking cups in the public schools of this city. I am informed by the superintendent of schools that he is making a strong effort to induce the pupils to provide their own cups. However successful this effort may be there will undoubtedly be an interchange of these cups which will prevent the successful use of this precautionary measure to a very great extent. I would suggest that the Council of the city make some provision for supplying to the schools a destructible paraffine or paper cup which cannot be used the second time. I would most respectfully urge that the Council require by ordinance a thorough and systematic medical examination of the pupils of the public schools of this city at least once each year. This examination to be made by physicians of this city, who will volunteer for this service. Three cases of scarlet fever have appeared during the past month among school children. This disease commonly occurs in this city as a mild infection. Serious cases, however, occasionally develop, and these cases may be contracted from children who are so mildly affected that they are permitted to continue to attend school. The medical supervision of the schools would minimize this danger. I would recommend that a volunteer physician be obtained upon whom a teacher might call when any pupil shows the slightest indication of the onset of this disease.

"The occurrence of 27 deaths from tuberculosis in this city since June 1st emphasizes the importance of establishing such requirements and regulations as exist in Asheville for the regulation of this disease. Notwithstanding the ordinance recently passed requiring the report of the existence of these cases, the physicians of this city have so far failed to comply with this law. The only cases so far reported have been reported by the superintendent of the hospital. When these tubercular patients work in the same office, rooms and buildings with others, a great majority of them constitute a serious menace to the lives of their associates. The death rate from tuberculosis in this city is rapidly increasing and I would recommend an ordinance requiring the establishment of strict sanitary regulations for all office buildings and places of business in which there is confined employment, and the compulsory exclusion of all persons known to be tubercular from all office buildings in which these sanitary regulations are not strictly enforced. These regulations to include a rigid sanitary inspection of these buildings at least twice each year.

"The scavenger service rendered by the city in cleaning the 1,350 sanitary closets that have been installed in the city has shown a degree of success in giving satisfactory service which completely proves the wisdom of municipal scavenging. This department has established at the disposal plant of the Wilmington Sewerage Co., on Burnt Mill Creek, a flush station for disposing of the contents of the cans—an arrangement for thoroughly cleaning same, together with stables and sheds for housing wagons and teams and storing cans. This department already owns sufficient equipment with the exception of the necessary horses, to enable the city to satisfactorily attend to the scavenging of the entire number of sanitary can closets which will be installed in this city. The expense of this service under the present conditions computed upon a basis of investment and cost of labor is 15 1-2 cents for each service. With an expansion of this service in which the entire equipment will be used and the city so districted as to make the collection of these cans convenient for the scavenger, the cost of service can be reduced to about 10 cents a can. The scavenging of the surface closets continues to be unsatisfactory to this department and to the citizens. I would earnestly recommend that this service also be undertaken by the city.

"The condition of the city market and its environment remains unsanitary to an offensive degree. I would recommend that immediate steps be taken to reconstruct this building along sanitary lines, and in order that increased rentals because of these improvements may make this institution profitable to the city, I would also recommend that competent and efficient custodians for the city markets be provided at once.

"The disposal of trash and garbage continues to be fruitful source of complaint. Destruction by fire of this material is the only way in which complete sanitation can be secured."

While the Council did not take action on any of the recommendations, none who read them can deny that they are timely, and should be given attention. Like other communications of Dr. Nesbitt, the report, as outlined above, will be read with absorbing interest by the people of the city, who are anxious to improve sanitary conditions, and who have the breadth to admit that unless the people generally have a knowledge of these conditions a change cannot be wrought.

A communication was read from Chief of Police John J. Fowler, calling attention, as he is required by a city ordinance to do, to fences on the west side of Fourth, between Orange and Ann streets, which, he pointed out, is an encroachment upon the street and is in the form of an obstruction to the sidewalk, he said. One fence belongs to Mrs. Henrietta Shepard and the other to Misses Jane M. Cronly, Sallie T. Cronly, Margaret Cronly and Mary D. Cronly, heirs and devisees of Mrs. Margaret Cronly. After some discussion a resolution was adopted citing the persons owning the fences to appear before the Council at its meeting on November 15th and show cause, if any, why the fences should not be removed.

Councilman B. C. Moore brought to the attention of the body numerous complaints which have recently been made about negro children, who attend a private school on Dock, between Third and Fourth streets, playing on property other than that upon which the school is located. The property owners themselves had lodged complaint. After some discussion it was decided that the remedy is with the property owners, who have recourse to the law.

Councilman Moore also brought to the attention of the Council the fact that this department is about to the end of its row in paying for scavenger ing work out of the city funds. He said that he had hoped that the sewerage question would have been settled ere this time, so that the department would be in position to require sewerage connections where such could be had, but that it looks now as though settlement is a long ways in the future. He said that he had no suggestion to make except that it might be well to continue the scavengering work for another ten days, hoping that in the meantime the sewerage question will be settled. A resolution to this effect was adopted. The Council decided to meet Friday morning at 10 o'clock at which time consideration will be given the proposition of scavengering the sanitary cans.

Inquiry was made by Councilman B. C. Moore relative to the discussion at the last regular meeting of the Sunday selling. The matter was considered, or rather brought up, during Mr. Moore's absence from the city. Assistant City Attorney Geo. L. Peschau was instructed at that meeting to draft an ordinance and submit the same to the meeting yesterday. This he did. However, the ordinance was not brought up for consideration and probably never will be. Mayor Smith and Councilman Tiencken expressed themselves as only desiring the enforcement of the ordinance now on the city statute books.

Councilman Perdew, of the Water and Sewerage Department, reported that Mr. Whipple, a chemist of National reputation, had arrived to make analysis of the city water supply. He will be here for a week or more.

Mayor Smith jokingly asked Councilman Perdew if he had purchased the existing sewerage system yet, and the latter replied that he had not but hoped to soon.

Councilman B. C. Moore said that Mr. Henry Bowden, manager of the North Carolina Cotton Oil Co., had asked that the city open the street from a point where Fourth and ...th streets come near intersecting to the company's plant, if indeed it is not conceded that the street is already open. The request was referred to Councilman P. Q. Moore, in charge of the Streets and Wharves Department.

Councilman P. Q. Moore said that Mr. R. A. Parsley told him that the Seaboard Air Line had given assurances that it would build a modern steel bridge over its tracks at Fourth street, and in view of this contemplated improvement by the railroad there is a renewal of the effort to have the city improve the street through Hilton, which will likely be done at an early date. There being no further business for consideration the Council adjourned shortly after 5 o'clock.

SOLDIER BOY IN BAD

Sentenced to Three Months on Roads in Recorder's Court

In the Recorder's court yesterday morning a young white man, W. J. Parker, who claims to be a soldier in the United States Army, stationed at Fortress Monroe, Va., and now on leave of absence in this city, was tried and found guilty of the larceny of some silverware from the home of Lucile Garrison, a woman of ill-repute. The woman alleged that Parker took the silver and a search of his room at his lodging house revealed it. Parker was sentenced to three months on the county roads with the privilege of the County Commissioners to hire out.

Cicero Leggett, colored, was given a sentence of 12 months on the county roads for an assault with a deadly weapon upon one Rob Herring, following an altercation between the two negroes in a colored dance hall in the city.

Hattie Key, colored, was assessed $10 and costs for an assault upon Edwin Hunter, likewise colored, and the latter was found not guilty of an affray.

James Jones was found guilty of the larceny of $20 worth of property from Joe Codgett and was bound over to the Superior Court under $100 bond, as the sum he took removes the case from the jurisdiction of the Recorder. James McClease and Arthur MsRae were charged with the larceny of property to the value of $22 from Joe Codgett and the case was continued until this morning.

One drunk was taxed the usual amount.

George Cavanaugh, a white man charged with selling two pints of whiskey to Luby Byrd during the latter part of October, was to have been tried yesterday morning, but the case was continued until today, in order to give the defendant time in which to get several witnesses.

Christian Endeavor Service

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. J. S. Crowley, who left yesterday afternoon for Charlotte to attend the Synod, the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Presbyterian church will conduct the weekly prayer meeting service in Immanuel Presbyterian church tonight. The service will begin at 8 o'clock and all members and friends are invited to be present.

BELIEVE THEY HAVE BURGLAR

Police Confident of Proving That Prisoner is Negro Who Entered Mrs. Fortman's House Sunday Morning.

If the web of evidence which the police are spinning around him does not prove faulty, Timothy Pawley, a light ginger-cake-colored negro who says he came here from Florence, S. C., will probably be able to lay claim to being the most unlucky Afro-American in the Southern States. In fact, were a Noble prize offered for that person distinguished by the largest portion of hard luck, Timothy would certainly be a most promising candidate for the trophy.

The sally forth in the dead of night, inspired by the shining examples of many others of the colored race, and bravely enter the house of a lone woman for the glorious purpose of looting the building, thereby winning name and fame in colored gangdom, is probably an alluring prospect to any negro mind, and thus must Timothy have pondered last Saturday night.

But alack! Also alas! How often do the plans of mice and men gang aglee.

Timothy, so the police say, last Sunday morning, between the hours of 1 and 2 o'clock, entered the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Fortman, No. 706 Brunswick street, for the purpose of robbery. Today Timothy will be tried before the Recorder on a charge of burglary. An thereby hangs his tale of woe.

Mrs. Fortman was awakened by the noise of someone striking a match in her kitchen, and as she lived alone, she arose to investigate. On entering the kitchen a negro was standing in the room, but upon seeing her he made a dive for an open window. Mrs. Fortman caught him by one foot as he went out and hauled him struggling back into the room. Just as she got him inside one of his low-quarter shoes came off in her hands and with this as a club she soundly pummeled the luckless youth over the head. The pain of the blows and his terror at last gave him strength to break away from the woman and he made a hurried exit through the window, leaving the shoe in the house. Mrs. Fortman notified police headquarters and officers went to her house and made an investigation. Since that time they have been working on several clues and the arrest came yesterday.

Pawley was arrested by Officer J. F. Smith, at the Champion Compress, where he was working.

Mrs. Fortman was notified when the man was taken to the police station and she came down and identified him positively as the negro who had entered her house. The shoe which he left in the hurried flight fitted his feet exactly and it also was the mate to another shoe found in the house where he was boarding. But more damaging evidence, yet, the police claim to have uncovered. They will put on as a witness another negro youth who boarded at the same house with Pawley, and they state that this witness will swear that the shoes belonged to him; that Pawley borrowed them from him Saturday evening and that he came home late in the night minus one of the shoes. The witness will further swear, they say, that he asked Pawley about the shoes next day and that Pawley asked him to keep quiet and told him that he would pay him for the shoes. The witness identified the shoe which Mrs. Fortman captured as one of the pair which Pawley borrowed from him.

Pawley denies the charge absolutely but there was a haunted look of fright in his eyes while he was being questioned by the officers yesterday. He says that he went to his boarding house and went to bed early Saturday night, while others at the boarding house, the police claim, say that he did not come in until after 2 o'clock. The officers are confident of making out their case against him this morning.

IN MEMORIAM

In the early morning of October 30, 1911, the spirit of Leon Lewis Corbett was called to its eternal home, and in recognition of our loss it seems befitting that Grace Church Sunday School, of which he was such a faithful and devoted member, should as an organization adopt suitable resolutions upon his death,

Therefore, be it resolved:

1st. That in the death of Leon Lewis Corbett, Grace Church Sunday School has lost one of its most valuable and efficient workers; as a member he was ever ready to co-operate with the officers for the furtherance of its best interests; as an officer and teacher of the Baraca Class he will ever be remembered for his splendid service.

2nd. That he was continually sacrificing himself for others and in his unselfish devotion to the unfortunate, he literally gave up his life to the service of his Master among those who were poor or in prison.

3rd. That he was "True-hearted, whole-hearted, faithful and loyal," and as he so often quoted, we now repeat believing that while he is absent in the flesh yet his spirit liveth, (1 Cor. 15:55):

"Oh, death where is thy sting?"

"Oh, grave where is thy victory?"

4th. That we extend the bereaved family our tenderest sympathy in the loss of such a son and brother and pray that the spirit of Him whom he loved to follow may comfort them in their grief.

5th. That these resolutions be incorporated in our records, and the secretary be instructed to send copies to the family and the Wilmington daily papers.

LEWIS WILLIAMS,
D. B. ROBINSON,

First Wold Geese of Season.

The first wild geese of the season were brought in yesterday afternoon by Mr. John L. Barker, a well known gunner of the city, who killed the handsome pair off the Watter's Flats on the Cape Fear river. They were large and well developed specimens of the Canada goose and were plump and fat. Mr. Barker disposed of them to Mr. William Sneeden, who conducts a market stall at No. 120 South Front street.

Will Be Located in Orton Building, Room Now Occupied by Seaboard Air Line—Improvements to Be Made

After negotiating for several days the officers and directors of the Home Savings Bank yesterday closed arrangments by which the store room in The Orton Hotel building, No. 115 North Front street, now occupied by the Seaboard Air Line, for its local commercial agent, is secured as the home of the bank, and announcement is made that the necessary changes and improvements in the interior will be made in time for the institution to open for business on the morning of December 1st, the time originally set.

The bank officials were congratulating themselves last night upon being able to secure such a central location, being in the heart of the business district and convenient for all customers of the institution. It was through the courtesy of Mr. F. A. Fetter, the local commercial agent of the Seaboard, and Mr. J. M. Hinton, proprietor of The Orton, and owner of the building, that the bank was able to secure the quarters. The Seaboard had a lease on the room for some time yet, but Mr. Fetter agreed to relinquish his right in the lease provided he could get the room now used by the hotel as a writing rom and this Mr. Hinton consented to let him have and a writing room will be arranged in another part of the building.

The officers of the institution hope to have one of the handsomest little banking houses in the city. Plans for changes and improvements have been drawn by Mr. Joseph F. Leitner, the well-known architect, and in every way met the approval of the bank officials. A new front door has been ordered to take the place of the present one and the floor will be brought down level with the street. A large fire and burglar proof safe has already been ordered and fixtures are being made especially for the place. It will be one of the most attractive banking quarters in the city and there will be ample room to carry on the business of the institution. The lobby will be made especially inviting and attractive. The partitition separating this room from the hotel writing room will be moved over some and this will give the bank increased space. Work on the improvements will begin right away so everything will be in readiness to begin business December 1st.

Fifty per cent. of the stock in the bank has been called for on or before Friday of this week and already a large portion has been received. The balance is to be paid in capital stock of $50,000 and has upwards of 100 shareholders, mostly young men. And the officers also are young men of fine business ability. Mr. Joseph W. Yates, president of the institution, has been in the banking business for 17 years and is familiar with every detail. Joseph W. Little, Esq., vice president and attorney, is interested in a number of prosperous local enterprises, while the cashier, Mr. J. F. Roache, now with R. G. Dun & Co., has had wide experience in business matters. Everything points to a most auspicious opening and the prediction is freely made that the bank will enjoy a large share of the business in the local field.

JUDGE CONNOR SPENT DAY HERE

Heard Argument of Motions in Two Cases—Decision Reserved

Judge H. G. Connor, of the United States Court for the Eastern District of North Carolina, spent yesterday in the city and during the day heard argument of counsel on motions in two cases pending in the Circuit Court, his decision in both cases being reserved and will be announced later. He left on the evening train for Richmond, Va., to attend the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. It was thought that Judge Connor would fix the date for the Fall term of Federal Court before he left, but he postponed action until later. However, it will be some time in January.

Argument was heard on motions in the admiralty case of the steamship Manchester Miller against 2,855 tons of manure salt. The claimant is the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company. Robt. Ruark, Esq., of this city, and J. P. K. Bryan, Esq., of Charleston, S. C., represent the libellants and Rountree & Carr, of this city, the claimant. The other matter heard during the day was in the case of Hugh Davis, trustee, against Carrier, et al., in a case involving a desired injunction, pending suit to try title to timber lands in Pender and adjoining counties. As stated, Judge Connor withheld his decision in both cases.

Real Estate Transfers.

Deeds were filed for record yesterday as follows: Graham Kenan to T. J. Dobson and wife, for $1,000 and other considerations, tract in Masonboro township, lying on west side of Wire road about two miles south of the city, containing about eight acres; E. R. Pickard and wife to Chas. C. Loughlin, for $10 and other considerations, lot on Ninth, 132 feet south of Meares street, 40x75 feet in size.

Children Are Blessed With a Sweet Tooth

So are you—and you should encourage it, for the system demands sugar more than meats. Of the three nutritive elements which support life—sugar, protein and fat—sugar is the most important. You can't eat too much of it in its correct form.

It is the native sugar in good ribbon cane syrup that gives it its wonderful food value—the whole substance is wholesome sugar.

The "sweetness" of many syrups sold to the public is a little sugar or saccharine matter added to an insipid by-product "filler"—tasteless until the sugar is added. Such syrup, by itself, or made into cake and candy, has about as much food value as shavings.

MR. VAFIADI VISITS RALEIGH

Vice Consul of Greece Spends Short Time in Capital City

Many friends in this city of Mr Demetre G. Vafiadi, vice consul of Greece for North and South Carolina, will read with interest the following from yesterday's Raleigh News and Observer relative to his visit to the Capital City:

"Visiting in the city is Mr. Demetre G. Vafiadi, of Wilmington, vice consul of Greece, for North Carolina and South Carolina. Yesterday he called on the Greeks doing business here and met many Americans also, in company with Mr. Leo Vournakes, of this city.

"Mr. Vafidai has been in the United States eight years, and six of these have ben spent in North Carolina at Wilmington, where he is connected with the Chadbourn Lumber Company. He is aoout 37 years old, a gentleman of most agreeable personality, and an interesting talker. He says that when he first came to America from Athens, his home, that he visited largely in this country, getting acquainted with people and conditions and learning the English language. He has only in the last week received his commission as vice consul, having been appointed some three months ago, the necessary papers for him to qualify awaiting the return of President Taft to Washington.

"Mr. Vafiida says that he finds throughout the country the most pleasant relations between the Greeks and the Americans and that he desires to do all in his power to have this continue, to aid in maintaining a friendly feeling and that he tells his people that it depends upon them to show themselves worthy of confidence and esteem. He says that there are no better people than those he has found in Wilmington and that he is delighted with what he has seen of Raleigh, that he is exceedingly glad to have the chance to visit it.

"Conditions in Greece, he says have improved greatly in the last year, under the administration of Prime Minister Venezelos, the leader of the Liberal party, who has assumed charge of the military and navy and put new life in it, securing instructions from France for the army and from England for the navy. The country is making progress and a department of agriculture and commerce have been established.

"In the present contest between Italy and Turkey it is Italy that has the friendship of the Greeks, he says, because of racial and other reasons. I. was in the Cretan trouble in 1897 that war came between Turkey and Greece and ever since that time the royal government of Greece has taken all necessary steps to correct every dficiency in its two branches of public safety, the army and the navy. Although Greece has assumed no threatening attitude against Turkey and has been peaceful, it has made Turkey understand that the old conditions when Greece could accept any offense of any kind has passed and that it is ready to protect itself and its rights.

"In its merchant marine Greece has made great progress, says Mr. Vafiadi. It ranks second in the Mediterranean and the Black Sea, only the English flag floating over more vessels. It has increased in both number of vessels and in tonnage, and the boycott of a year and a half passed on its commerce by Turkey has injured Turkey more than it has Greece. Altogether conditions in Greece are improving and the country is growing stronger.

"Mr. Vafiadi, at all times in a most pleasant interview with him, declared that the Greeks liked the Americans and wanted the pleasant conditions now existing to continue, and that the Greeks in North Carolina loved this State and its people."

WILMINGTON BOYS WIN OUT.

Capture Two Out of Three Medals at Blue Ridge Camp.

Mr. Chas. W. Burnett, Jr., and Mr. Chas. Jacobs, Jr., two young athletes of the city, received Monday a handsome silver medal apiece, Mr. Burnett's being for best all-round baseball player at the Blue Ridge Camp the past Summer, and Mr. Jacobs' being for the best all-round track athlete at the camp.

The Blue Ridge Camp is an athletic training school and place of recreation for boys and young men, conducted through the Summer months about seven miles from Charlottesville, Va. It is the custom of the camp to give each year three medals to the best athletes who attend through the Summer and it speaks well for Wilmington and North Carolina that her boys took two of them, while the third went to a Virginia boy.

Messrs. Burnett and Jacobs attended the camp during July and August the past Summer and took a vigorous part in the athletic activities. They are to be congratulated on winning two first places out of the large number of boys who attended. The medals are handsome silver trophies and their owners are justly proud of them.

Saved Many from Death

W. L. Mock, of Mock, Ark., believes he has saved many lives in his 25 years of experience in the drug business. "What I always like to do," he writes, "is to recommend Dr. King's New Discovery for weak, sore lungs, hard colds, hoarseness, obstinate coughs, la grippe, croup, asthma or other bronchial affection, for I feel sure that a number of my neighbors are alive and well today because they took my advice to use it. I honestly believe its the best throat and lung medicine that's made." Easy to prove he's right. Get a trial bottle free, or regular 50c. or $1.00 bottle. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

The officer found no traces of the assault, but he brought the drunk back with him.

He was en route from Norfolk to this city when he suffered an attack of pleurisy near Warsaw. Mr. LeGrand thought that he would be able to come on to his home without medical assistance, but his sufferings increased so that by the time Wallace was reached Dr. Graham, of that place was called in. Mr. LeGrand's brother, Mr. Geo. S. LeGrand, and a party of friends, met the train and accompanied him to his home at No. 314 Orange street. He was reported as somewhat improved yesterday afternoon. Mr. LeGrand's many friends will wish for him an early restoration to complete health.

Facts About Motherhood

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at the time of child-birth, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when the strain is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

It isn't as though the experience came upon them unawares. They have ample time in which to prepare, but they, for the most part, trust to chance and pay the penalty.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy, and strong.

Any woman who would like special advice in regard to this matter is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. Her letter will be held in strict confidence.

..Theatrical..

Founded upon an emblem of purity and full of human interest that goes straight to the heart, "The Rosary", a new play by Ed E. Rose, has made a most favorable impression, and it will be offered at the Academy today, matinee and night. The production is a new one, and Messrs. Rowland and Clifford have given it a magnificent staging.

The theme of the play as expressed by the title is presented in a gripping and forceful manner that strikes home and at the same time there is an abundance of original and moral comedy. Seldom is a cast more fitted to their respective parts than the members of this company. Every member is so well placed that there is not the slightest jarring of any part in the play and the result is a perfect rendition.

In "Rev. Brian Kelly," played by

SCENE FROM "THE ROSARY."
Beautiful Drama at Academy Today, Matinee and Night.

Harrington Reynolds, theatre-goers witness one of the best portrayals of this nature that ever has been seen on the stage. Mr. Reynolds is forceful, sympathetic and impressive, and gives just the right touch of realism to the character.

The matinee will be a bargain one, the reserved seat price being 50 cents, and seats for both matinee and night are now on sale at Plummer's.

Supplementing the praise given "The Rosary" by the papers of Asheville, Charlotte, Greensboro and other North Carolina cities, came the following yesterday from the Raleigh News and Observer:

"The Rosary was presented at the Academy of Music last night before a highly appreciative and enthusiastic audience. It is a strong play in which the effects of sin are brought out and shown very forcibly; and it shows, too, that there is no rest for the wicked until they face their wrong-doing and confess it.

"Mr. Harry Nelson as Reverend Brian O'Kelly plays his part to perfection. In his acting Irish wit is manifested, also Irish earnestness. He has the support of the other players, which adds strength to the play as a whole and makes it one of force.

"Throughout the play there is that which leads the spectator to anticipate the triumph of right, although many complications arise. 'Father Kelly' is the central figure and through him the play is brought to a pleasing climax."

"The Girl From Rector's."

"The Girl from Rector's", which enjoyed a run of over 300 nights in New York will be seen at the Academy, matinee and night, Saturday.

The work is by the author of "Trilby" whose stay at the Garden Theatre was second only to that of "The Girl from Rector's" at Weber's Music Hall.

The New York Herald declared it to be the most entertaining vehicle ever presented at Weber's and there was no reason why it should not live for years to come. "The Girl" broke every record at that playhouse, surpassing by many thousands of dollars the figures reached by Weber and Frields when theirs was the most popular music hall in all America.

Seats will go on sale Friday at Plummer's.

Mammoth Revival Soon Here.

The Bohemian Girl comes to the Academy of Music shortly. This is said to be a sumptuous spectacular production of Balfe's famous masterpiece, and will be presented by the Aborn Opera Company with not only an unusual cast of soloists, big chorus, augmented orchestra and brilliant corps de ballet, numbering upwards of one hundred people, but in the realistic scenes of which there are introduced a cavalcade of twenty horses, wonderful whirlwind acrobats, real gypsies and other startling novelities.

At The Bijou.

The Bijou, the ever popular and ever delightfully comfortable amusement spot, will head its unusually large bill today with a film the advance description of which caused a great demand for it. It should be borne in mind that the Bijou gets the films as soon as placed on the market. It is "The Lighthouse by the Sea." As its title implies it is a decidedly picturesque photoplay and one that will fascinate, because stories of sea life are always exceptionally attractive. The film is particularly marked by what has been proclaimed to be the most sensational and novel shipwreck scene ever depicted, and the rescue of a fisherman clinging amid the angry waters, to a small spar, is a thrilling piece of action. "Outwitting Papa," is the particularly big fun picture for today, though there will be several side-splitters. The rest of the bill, including fine music, will be simply immense.

At The Grand.

At the Grand today there will be produced three of the best pictures of the week at any popular-priced theatre. The headliners will be a noted Vitagraph, "Madge of the Mountains," and a great Edison production of "The Girl and the Motor Boat." The first is a mountain romance of remarkable beauty and keen heart interest, abounding in the milk of human kindness. The Edison film is photographically remarkable and the brilliant cast makes its action exceedingly human and interesting. All Edison dramas are full of life and interest without being melodramatic, but the offering for today is especially up to a very high standard. These films deal with probable situations and are produced in an understandable way. "The Girl in the Motor Boat," is an excellent example of the high class of this service. During the intermission tonight the Grand orchestra will play "Chung Lo", a Chinese monkey doodle. This is a great hit in New York and the most characteristic Chinese march ever written.

BUYS NORTH CAROLINA LAND

Mr. J. A. Harps, of Ohio, Purchased Farm on the A. C. L.

Mr. E. N. Clark, agricultural and immigration agent of the Atlantic Coast Line, said yesterday that Mr. J. A. Harps, a wealthy man of Greenfield, Ohio, has purchased 6,000 acres of land at Pineview, on the Atlantic Coast Line, between Fayetteville and Sanford, and has already set about to improve the property. About 500 acres are cleared and Mr. Harps hopes to have 1,000 ready for cultivation by Spring. The land adjoins tracts recently purchased by Mr. J. F. Jordan, of Greensboro, and Congressman Kent, of California. Mr. Harps will engage in farming and will also go into the hog-raising industry. He expects to bring a number of Ohio families East to live on his farm. Mr. Harps has not given up his Western holdings, but will spend much of his time on his farm in this State.

NEGRO SHOT AT OFFICER

Unknown Negro Fired at Officer Nelms and Then Ran

Some negro who is unknown to the police shot at Mounted Officer A. A. Nelms last evening about 8:30 o'clock on Eighth street, between Church and Castle. The officer fired back at the negro one time but his pistol snapped on the next cartridge and the negro disappeared before he could fire again.

Officer Nelms rode past a crowd of negroes and one of them called to him or said something about him. The officer rode his horse up to the sidewalk and the group broke up. The negro who had called started to walk off and the officer told him to stop; that he wanted to talk to him, whereupon the negro pulled his pistol and fired one shot before doing his marathon.

KILLING NEAR FAIR BLUFF.

Coroner's Jury in Case of Mrs. Thompson Makes Report.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Nov. 7.—News has just reached Whiteville of the killing of Jack Norris by his brother-in-law, Carson Strickland. Particulars cannot be had. The killing occurred in Robeson county, about seven miles from Fair Bluff, although both parties lived in Fair Bluff and are well known

The records of the Commissioners' meeting, held yesterday show that the cost of the inquest over Mrs. Edgar Thompson is as follows: For holding inquest, $103; holding autopsy, $100. The Commissioners accepted the report of the physicians who made the autopsy.

The coroner's jury of inquiry over the body of Mrs. Edgar Thompson, E. S. Lewis, R. H. Powell, Bogue Baldwin, T. S. Memory and Will Spivey, and Manly Stanley, endorse the following report of physicians:

"I, S. A. Smith, M. D., coroner for Columbus county, according to the law and at request of the above jurors, do select the following physicians, H. B. Maxwell and F. L. Brown, legally registered and practicing physicians, of Columbus county, N. C., do beg to submit our report, which is as follows:

"We, S. A. Smith, H. B. Maxwell and F. L. Brown, did hold post mortem examination of Mrs. Edgar Thompson's body, making a thorough examination of the vital parts, to-wit: the brain, heart, lungs, liver, stomach, intestines and kidneys.

"After due consideration of the condition as found in the above named organs, we give as our opinion that the deceased came to her death from natural causes."

NO PENSION FOR GLUTTON.

Veteran "Disabled" by Five Meals a Day, Gets No Relief.

Washington, November 7.—Pension examiners have decided that a veteran who applies for a pension under the general disability order upon the complaint that he has swelling of the stomach, after consuming four or five meals a day, is not entitled to relief. A constituent of Representative Langley, of Kentucky, applied for the pension. To an examiner the applicant stated his case:

"For breakfast at 5 o'clock I generally eat oatmeal, two eggs and a piece of steak or bacon. Then I take a lunch about 9 o'clock. Some cakes—about five; that's all for lunch. My next meal is 1 o'clock—my dinner. I take a cup of coffee, spoonful of potatoes, small piece of meat and a piece of pie. Sometimes I eat some vegetables, sour kraut and beanes. I generally eat about two hot biscuits with molasses. Once in a while I eat buckwheat cakes, but not often, for they some way seem to kind of bake in my stomach. They don't work good.

"My next meal is 7 o'clock in the evening. I then take a cup of coffee, a dish of oatmeal and a piece of pie."

The veteran said he had taken enough patent medicines to float a steamship, but the buckwheats and Hamburger caused an ache which couldn't be cured.

GEORGIA STATE SYNOD.

Two Hundred Delegates in Attendance at Decatur.

Decatur, Ga., Nov. 7.—Two hundred delegates are in attendance upon the sessions of the convention of the State Synod, composed of six Georgia Presbyteries, which opened in the First Presbyterian church here today.

The morning and afternoon sessions today were executive sessions and business of importance to the Church in the State was transacted.

At tonight's meeting a new moderator and other officers will be elected. Synod meetings will continue through Friday of this week.

On Wednesday evening Dr. Henry M. Steets, of Nashville, secretary of ministerial relief and education, will speak. It is expected that Dr. H. S. Chester, of Nashville, secretary of the board of foreign missions, also will be present at that session.

GIVES AN AIRSHIP "AT HOME

Two of Mrs. Marsh's Long Island Guests Drop in by Aeroplane

New York, Nov. 7. — "Aerial at homes" are the latest in Long Island society. Mrs. Frank E. Marsh, of Pellerose, L. I., entertained here and Mrs. W. Irving Twomoly, a society matron, and Aviator Walsh dropped in on her by airship. Miss Blanche Scott also received a card, but her airship was in such bad shape it was impossible for her to make the trip.

Mrs. Twombly and Walsh flew from the Garden City aviation grounds and returned there. On arriving at Bellerose the aviator made a number of spectacular spirals, dips, plunges and turns which proved highly entertaining to Mrs. Marsh's other guests, although none of them were willing to take Mrs. Twombly's seat in the machine for a trial spin.

NO EXTRA SESSION CALLED

Of South Carolina Legislature to Consider Cotton Market Condition

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 7.—Governor Blease today declined to call an extra session of the Legislature, at the request of Marlboro county planters, to consider measures for the improvement of cotton market conditions. He gave as his principal objection his opinion that the expense would be disproportionate to the good likely to be accomplished.

Incidentally he expressed the view that the Carolina cotton mill mergers were largely responsible for the conditions complained of. The governor's attitude is set forth in a long reply by mail to a telegraphic request from a mass meeting of Marlboro county, that he call the Legislature together "to consider a plan of relief for the present situation."

WILL BE QUIET.

First Part of the Week Will Prove to be Quiet With Cotton.

New Orleans, Nov. 7—The first part of this week in the cotton market promises to be as quiet as last week was, chiefly because the trade will be waiting on the report on ginning by the census bureau to November 1. This report will be published Wednesday morning. The market anticipates figures somewhere between 9,000,000 and 10,000,000 bales.

After the ginners' returns are known the trade probably will devote attention to the November spot demand. November usually is a dead month, but the bulls have claimed much for it this Fall, and it is said that freight engagements are large enough to warrant the assertion that exports this month will be big. Apparently confirming this opinion is the rumor that ocean freight rates will shortly be advanced.

Early in the week reports are expected as to he effect of the cold spell on cotton, but it is hardly probable that these will affect prices to any great extent.

The Chinese situation will be closely watched, because of the many reports of cancellation of orders of cloths by Chinese importers. These cancellations, it is claimed by the bears, have become an item of importance to many Southern mills, as well as to the mill of Lancashier, and it will naturally be claimed that cancellations are on the increase if the rebellion in China grows to larger proportions.

Cables from Shanghai on the week-end said that business in cloths was not good.

The time is fast approaching when the more serious crop estimates will come out. The government estimate is less than a month away, and by the end of this week several important private guesses ought to be published. They may have considerable influence one way or another on the course of prices.

NORTH CAROLINA SYNOD.

98th Session Convened in Charlotte Last Night.

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 7.—The 98th annual session of the North Carolina Presbyterian Synod convened here tonight in the Second Presbyterian church with delegates to the number of several hundred present from every section of the State. Rev. Dr. Melton Clark, of Greensboro, delivered the opening sermon for the retiring moderator, Hon. A. L. Scales, ruling elder in his church. Dr. W. R. Minter was chosen moderator for the session. The Synod will get down to business tomorrow.

The Synod will adjourn tomorrow and take a trip to Center Church, where the first Synod in North Carolina was held. There will be a special train and not only the ministers and delegates, but every person in the city and county who is interested in the dedication of the tablet to be placed there are heartily expected to go. The price of the round trip will be $1, and it is hoped that several hundred laymen will go on this trip.

The special train will leave the Southern depot tomorrow morning at 10:30 and will go direct to Center, from Center to Barium and Barium to Davidson. The delegation will get back to Charlotte about 7 P. M. tomorrow evening. The people of the various places to be visited have made ample provision to entertain the visitors and a real old fashioned country dinner will be served.

STATUE OF LINCOLN.

Taft to Attend the Unveiling Ceremonies Tomorrow.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 7.—Frankfort already is getting in gala dress for the visit tomorrow afternoon of President Taft and the many other notables who will come to unveil the bronze statue of Abraham Lincoln, already on its pedestal and waiting in the rotunda of Kentucky's one-year-old State capitol. A. A. Weinman, the sculptor, personally superintended the placing of the statue and will attend the services tomorrow.

A large section of the balcony, part of which will be occupied by the President and his party, has been set aside for the use of former slaves. A score of these belonged, in the old days, to the family of the donor of the statue, James B. Speed, of Louisville.

Governor Augustus E. Willson has announced the names of the committees which will welcome Mr. Taft to the city. Robert T. Lincoln, son of the war President, will not be able to attend the unveiling ceremony nor the dedication on Thursday of the Lincoln memorial hall on the old Lincoln farm, near Hodgenville.

WHO LOSES $24,340,000?

Government or Railroads, in the Carrying of United States Mails

Washington, Nov. 7.—Postmaster General Hitchcock has said that he expects to save about $9,000,000 on railway mail contracts by improving the antiquated system now used. In reply the committee on railway mail pay, representing the railroads, has issued a preliminary report, asserting that the roads are entitled to $15,34[illegible] more than they are now getting.

As the figures of Mr. Hitchcock and the committee are $24,340, apart, the house committee on expenditures in the Postoffice Department has sent blanks to publishers of newspapers and magazines, about 27,000 all told, to ascertain the total weight of their yearly output and the number of pounds delivered by own carrier, by freight, by express and by mail.

Chairman Ashbrook and his committee will ask Mr. Hithcock, and the railroads to explain the difference in their figures.

FROM JOHNSON CITY

Redeemed by Democrats With Election of N. D. Baker

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 7.—Cleveland, which two years ago went Republican, electing Herman C. Bahr, mayor, over the late Tom L. Johnson, today returned to the Democratic fold electing Newton D. Baker, Tom L. Johnson's political heir, mayor, over Frank C. Hogan, mayor, by about 18,000 majority. The entire Democratic city ticket won with the exception of five councilmen.

Baker was city solicitor during the entire eight years of the Johnson regime. He favors equal votes for women and pledges all progressive issues. In his campaign he declared for a municipal lighting plant, for municipal betterment generally and all the issues for which Johnson stood.

that his fate remained in doubt until the last district was heard from.

The Republicans elected a sheriff in Kings county by about 14,000. In 19 out of 23 districts in Brooklyn the fusionists gained six Assemblymen.

Vote on Supreme Court justices, first district complete: Scott, Democrat fusion, 260,274; Colahan, Democrat, 134,240; Pendleton, Democrat, 136,507; Hotchkiss, Democrat, 134,409; Ottinger, fusion 130,981; Shearn, fusion 129,481; Baldwin, fusion 129,993.

Complete returns for surrogate in Manhattan and The Bronx showed Fowler, Democrat, had a plurality of 15,946 over Mathewson, fusion.

Ohio Democratic Swept

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 7. — The Democrats were swept into power in the three largest cities of Ohio today, Columbus, Cincinnati and Cleveland, returning decisive Democratic pluralities.

A feature of the elections throughout the State was the large socialist vote. In Columbus, Eby, the Socialist candidate for mayor, according to early returns was running a close race with Mayor Marshall, the Republican nominee for second place, while George J. Karb, Democrat, had been elected by from 4,000 to 6,000 plurality.

In Cincinnati, Mayor Louis Schwab, running for re-election with the Republican endorsement, was defeated by Henry T. Hunt, Democrat, by probably 6,000.

In Cleveland, Newton D. Baker, Democrat and politica. heir to the late Tom L. Johnson, was elected mayor by probably 20,000, while practically the entire Democratic ticket is elected with him.

In Toledo, Brand Whitlock, independent, has apparently been elected for a fourth term by a plurality in the neighborhood of 2,000.

Speaker Clark Elated

St. Louis, Nov. 7.—Speaker Clark is elated over the result of the more important elections throughout the country as indicated in early returns and holds that the news bespeaks endorsement of the work of the last Congress and forecasts the election next year of a Democratic President.

"This is good news," he said at his home in Bowling Green, Mo. "It surely is an endorsement of the work of the Democratic Congress and shows we will elect a President next year. It is very good news to me."

Republicans at Norfolk

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 7.—Alvah ... Martin, Republican national committeeman from Virginia, won a decisive victory at home today when in the face of a great fight with State issues drawn, he was re-elected clerk of the Circuit Court of Norfolk county by a majority of more than 600 over his Democratic opponent, C. W. Coleman, who failed to poll as many votes as he received in the Democratic primary.

In Princess Anne county, Dr. Emerson Land, former Democratic mayor of Virginia Beach, defeated A. E. Kellum, Republican, who had for many years held the position of clerk of the court as an independent.

Democrats Carry Massachusetts

Boston, Mass., Nov. 7.—The Democrats won the State election today and kept Massachusetts in the party column by continuing Governor Eugene N. Foss in office for a second term. The complete returns gave Foss, Democrat, 210,622; Frothingham, Republican, 202,888; Foss' plurality was 7,734.

The margin of victory today was the narrowest in years and for hours after the close of the polls the result hung in the balance. Republicans refused to concede the defeat of Lieutenant Governor Louis A. Frothingham as late as midnight and at that time it was intimated that a Statewide re-count might be necessary.

In the campaign speeches, Republican orators urged Frothingham's election on the ground that the national administration should be supported on its tariff policy and that a Democratic victory would mean a blow to the textile industries of the State.

Governor placed his record before the people and asked for support.

It was expected because of an off year, the total vote would fall off considerably but the average was well maintained.

The make up of the remainder of the State ticket was still in doubt at midnight, although both branches of the legislatures was apparently Republican.

publican.

Governor Foss issued the following statement:

"The people have won their second great victory over machine rule in spite of the most scandalous boiloble campaign ever waged in this State.

"Massachusetts has spoken unmistakably for an honest revision of the tariff, and for a busines administration of the commonwealth.

"The national significance of this election is inestimable the rest of the country will follow the lead of Massachusetts."

Kentucky Democratic.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 7.—Kentucky, for years considered in the balance between the Democrats and Republicans, today went back into the ranks of the former in a landslide victory. Returns up to 9:30 tonight indicated that James B. McCreary, Democratic candidate for Governor, had been elected by from 20,000 to 40,000 majority. His opponent was Judge Edward C. O'Rear.

The Herald and Post both of which supported the Republican ticket, conceded McCreary's election by 40,000, but figures taken from all sources hardly justify such an estimate.

The returns have surprised even the most optimistic Democrats, most of whom said the election would be close. As it is the Republican majority of 7,000, by which the present administration went into office, was shattered and the Democratic State ticket will go into office more strongly endorsed than has any ticket in years.

The Herald tomorrow will attribute Republican defeat to what it considers unpopularity of present Republican National and State administrations in Kentucky.

Neither party had a paramount issue. Both stood for the county unit prohibition election plan; advancement in methods of governing State institutions.

Democrats Meet Defeat.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 7.—Returns at midnight indicate that the Republicans will control both branches of the Legislature next Winter. Gloucester county, which, according to early returns was in doubt, elected a Republican senator and this will make the Senate stand 11 Republicans to 10 Democrats.

The Assembly will be made up of approximately 38 Republicans to 22 Democrats. Last year's Assembly consisted of 42 Democrats and 18 Republicans.

The Democrats elected about 12 of their 17 candidates for sheriff. The election for assemblymen showed gains for the Republicans in a number of counties that last Fall elected Democrats, that ware carried through by Governor Wilson in connection with his candidacy for the governorship.

The counties that last Winter had Democratic assemblymen, but who next year will be represented by Republicans are Bergen, Essex, Gloucester, Morris, Somerset and Union.

The election is significant in the defeat of a number of men whose election was especially advocated by Governor Woodrow Wilson in the tour he made of the State during the last few weeks.

Among the defeated Democrats State Senator Harry S. Osborne, of Essex county, in whose behalf Governor Wilson made an appeal to the voters of Essex county in an address that was made yesterday.

Governor Wilson asked for Mr. Osborne the election on the ground that the senator last Winter had been one of the strongest supporters of the governor's policy. Another Wilson supporter, who was defeated, was Assemblyman Lamonte, of Somerset county, who ran for State senator this time, and in whose behalf Governor Wilson made speeches in that county last Saturday.

The Republicans elected the entire Assembly ticket in Essex county, where the Democratic organization candidates were nominated and in whose behalf Governor Wilson declined to go to Essex to speak.

General Republican Victory

Providence, R. I., Nov. 7.—Returns at midnight from more than half the State indicated a general Republican victory, Governor Pothier being returned to office apparently by a greatly increased plurality. With 108 out of 284 voting precincts heard from the vote was: Pothier 21,119; Water, Democrat, 16,530.

The same districts last year gain: Pothier, 18,850; Waterman, 18,119.

The Legislature will be largely Republican.

Republican Governor

Baltimore, Nov. 7.—The American Republican in an extra covering the election situation up to midnight, declares that the early returns from Baltimore and estimates from the counties would indicate there that Goldsborough, Republican, has been elected governor by about 5,000 plurality.

The Sun, Democrat, says that the returns from Baltimore and the counties up to the same hour were not sufficient to indicate the results either on the State of city tockets.

Republican Lieut. Governor

Boston, Mass., Nov. 7.—Complete returns in the State today for Lieutenant Governor give Luce, Republican, 208,700; Walsh, Democrat, 201,950; Luce's plurality 6,750.

Eight Socialist Mayors

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. ...—The big feature in the municipal contest throughout the State is the large socialistic vote, eight cities electing socialist mayors today.

These cities are Lorain, St. Marys, Martin's Ferry, Fostoria, Mount Vernon, Barberton, Salem and Cuyahoga Falls.

In Canton it will take the official count to decide whether the Socialistic candidate or Turnbull (Democrat) is elected, as unofficially Turnbull wins by three votes.

Leaders of the party here attribute the increase in the Socialistic vote to organized proselyting.

Republican Governor in Maryland

Baltimore, Nov. 7.—Thirty-nine precincts in Baltimore out of 321 give Goldsborough, Republican for governor, 4,473; Gorman, 3,813.

Of the counties heard from the Republicans have carried Caroline and Caroll which four years ago gave Crothiers, Democrat for governor, a majority.

Compared with the vote of four years ago the Republicans have increased their majorities in the Republican counties and have made gains in the Democratic counties.

Taft Made No Comments

Cincinnati, Nov. 7.—President Taft had no comment to make tonight on the result of the election in the various States. He scanned bulletins handed to him by the Associated Press representatives with interest but refused to make any comment.

Bryan Well Pleased

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 7.—William J. Bryan tonight expressed his satisfaction over what he interpreted from the limited reports he had received to be a general victory for Democrats.

Democratic State Ticket.

Jackson, Miss, Nov. 7.—As was accepted as a certainty before the election, Mississippi voters elected the entire Democratic State ticket today. The strength shown by the Socialist candidates, however, was an extraordinary incident.

In the Presidential election of 1908 Socialist votes polled totalled 978; in 1910 at the Congressional election 1,500. Today James T. Lester, candidate for lieutenant governor in opposition to Theodore G. Bolbo, Democratic nominee, if the ratio shown by meagre figures at hand at midnight is maintained, will have in excess of 6,000. Lester led his ticket, which was the only opposition to the Democrats. It is estimated that not more than 40,000 votes were polled, about one-third of a normal vote.

Overwhelmingly Republican

New York, Nov. 7.—From a Democratic majority of 24 the New York State assembly today turned overwhelmingly Republican. At midnight all indications point to the Republicans in the lower chamber having a majority of fifty. Thus the Democratic majorities in both houses which existed during the first half of Governor John A. Dix's administration will be lacking next year. The present Senate holds over.

In the unexpected landslide the Democrats were able to capture only three seats held by the Republicans, whereas al over the commonwealth Democratic assemblymen fell by the wayside. In one instance in Schenectady, Herbert M. Merrill, a socialist, won out where a Democrat had held the seat.

Returns up to midnight indicated that the Republicans will have 100 members in the lower branch representing a net gain of 39 seats.

In the avalanche Daniel B. Frisbie, speaker of the present house, managed to hold his seat and Lewis Stuyvesant ...nler, of Dutchess county, is expected to get in by the narrow margin of about 14 votes.

In Greater New York the Republicans defeated nine Democrats, while in Kings county an equal number of Democratic candidates met defeat.

The election besides an assemblyman of the entire city ticket by the socialists in Schenectady, was one of the most striking incidents of the voting up-State.

In Auburn, Thomas M. Osborne, one of the organizers of the Democratic League, was defeated for mayor by Thomas H. O'Neill, Republican.

Ten vacancies on the State court bench were filled by elections in four judiciary districts with an equal division of honors; five seats going to Democrats and the same number to Republicans.

Sure They Will Carry

New York, Nov. 7.—Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, made the following statement late tonight after returns had made it appear certain that his organization had won the election in New York city:

"The result is a signal triumph for the people. It shows a decided drift to Democracy and indicates that we shall enter the national fight of 1912 with unbroken ranks and the certainty of carrying New York State for the Democratic ticket."

Scattered Returns.

San Francisco, Cal., November 7.—Scattered returns from the municipal election today indicate a victory for the municipal conference candiadtes for supervisors over the union labor candidates.

The conference represetned the Democratic, Republican and Good Government parties. This coalition was victorious an September 26, when a direct primary elected James Rolph for the mayoralty over P. H. McCarthy, Union Labor, by a majority vote.

Greatest interest today centered in the fight between Hawthorne, Conference candidate, and Charles M. Fickert, Union Labor incumbent, for district attorney. Fickert had led in the primaries, but tonight's returns showed the result in doubt.

The only other election in California today was at Sacramento, where M. R. Beard, Democrat, was re-elected mayor. Allen Stewart, the Social candate, ran ahead of Frank Sutliff, Republican.

"War Horse of Reform" Elected.

Philadelphia, November 8.—The North American at 1:45 this morning announced that Rudolph Blankenburg, the "war horse of reform," had been elected mayor, over George H. Earle, Jr., Republican. It was stated that the office of United States Senator Penrose admitted that Blankenburg had been elected by between 300 and 1,000 majority. Blankenburg was nominated by the Democratic and Keystone parties, and the fight he made will be memorable for years to come.

Slow in Charleston.

Charleston, S. C., November 8.—At 1 o'clock this morning Colonel John P. Grace seemed to have a plurality of 64, lacking 34 of a majority in the contest for mayor in this city. A large number of challenged votes, however, will have to be passed upon by the committee. Sixteen out of twenty-two precincts have been heard from.

But 20 Per Cent. Shown.

Petersburg, Va., Nov. 7.—But 20 per cent. of this city's voting strength was shown today when P. H. Drewry received 390 votes for State Senate and Robert Gilliam, Jr., 389 for House delegate. There was no contest here. In Dinwiddie county where some of the Democrats who voted in the recent primary bolted the ticket and set up an independent ticket, there were contests for several county offices. Though the independent vote was strong, all Democrats were elected. The largest vote in several years was polled.

Kansas Democratic.

Kansas City, Nov 7—Joseph A. Taggart, a Democrat, was today elected to Congress from the Second Kansas District by a majority estimated at 1,200 votes over his Republican opponent, Ulysses S. Guyer, to fill the unexpired term of the late Republican Congressman, A. C. Mitchell. Mitchell carried the district in 1909 by 3,310 over John Caldwell, Democrat.

Republican in New Jersey.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 7.—Returns from the First Congressional District show that William J. Browning, Republican, was elected to succeed the late Henry C. Loudenslager, by from 3,000 to 4,000 majority.

In New Mexico.

Albuquerque, N. M., Nov. 7.—Bursum, Republican, and McDonald, Democrat, for Governor, both claim election on meagre early returns.

Albuquerque and LasVegas, both ordinarily strongly Republican, have already been conceded to the Democrats, the former by 100 and the latter by 200.

It seems safe to predict a Republican Legislature, which will elect two United States Senators, but the Democrats have excellent chance of electing a State ticket and Congressmen.

Compulsory Education.

Lynchburg, Va., Nov. 7.—Lynchburg today by a majority of 543 votes adopted compulsory education, being the first city in Virginia to take advantage of a law approved two years ago.

Baltimore City Republican

Baltimore, Nov. 7.—Sixty precincts out of 121 in Baltimore city for governor: Goldsborough, Republican, 7,057; Gorman, Democrat, 6,014. For sheriff, Weis Republican, 5,403; Hughes, Democrat, 3,625; McNulty, Independent Democrat, 3,162.

Illinois Judicial Ticket.

Chicago, November 7.—Early returns in the judicial election here indicate that nine of eleven Democrats have been elected. Two Republicans, Kavanaugh and McSurely, are thought to be chosen for the Superior Court.

Socialist in Mississippi.

Jackson, Miss., November 7.—Early returns from today's election in Mississippi, while indicating the usual Democratic victory for the entire State ticket, gives James T. Lester, Socialist, candidate for lieutenant governor in opposition to Theodore G. Bilbo, Democratic nominee, a heavier vote than anticipated.

---

Knoxville, November 7.—The Rev. Henly Brooks, a prominent minister of East Tennessee, was killed at Cedar Fork, in Claiborne County, yesterday afternoon, while rabbit hunting. His gun was accientally discharged with fatal effect.

COTTON HOLDING MOVEMENT

Eight States Are Pledged to Help the Scheme

Columbia, Nov. 7. — "Georgia through, committee has inaugurated a plan for holding cotton," says a telegram to Commissioner Watson today from T. G. Hudson, commissioner of agriculture for Georgia.

Other States which have promised co-operation with South Carolina union farmers in the plan to secure from cotton growers pledges to hold cotton until next September for 13 cents and to plant next season not more than 60 per cent. of arable lands, are Texas, Alabama, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and North Carolina.

RODGERS CONGRATULATED

Fellow Aviator Suggests That He Continue Across Pacific

Pasadena, Cal., Nov. 7.—Among the many congratulatory messages received by Aviator C. P. Rodgers, who completed his trans-continental flight here last Sunday, are the following:

"New York, Nov. 6.—I am proud to have the world's record go to you. Accept my heartiest congratulations. (Signed) "Harry N. Atwood."

Aviator A. L. Welsh, of New York, was very optimistic. His telegram reads:

"Congratulations. Keep right on across the Pacific. You can make it.'

Explained at Meeting of Farmers and Business Men in South Carolina.

Bennettsville, S. C., Nov. 7.—At a meeting of farmers, bankers and business men of Marlboro county, held here at which John L. McLaurin, former United States senator, explained the workings of the "Louisiana plan," resolutions were unanimously adopted calling on the government to call an extra session of the Legislature to consider the plan of the State building cotton warehouses, fixing the minimum price of cotton and regulating the holding movement.
